

NELSON

BOLDLY TRANSFORMING THE HUMAN EXPERIENCE

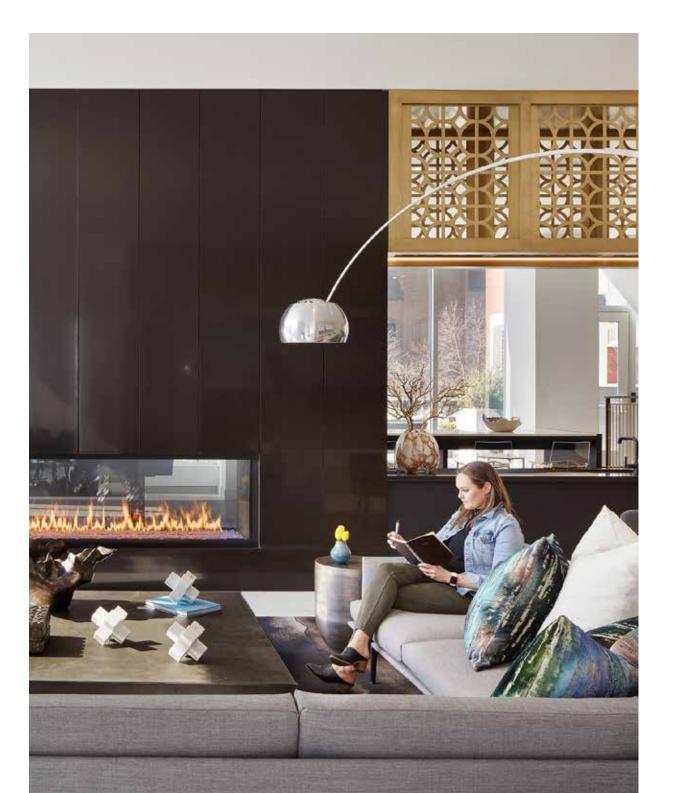

Insights into Today's Financial Services Workplace

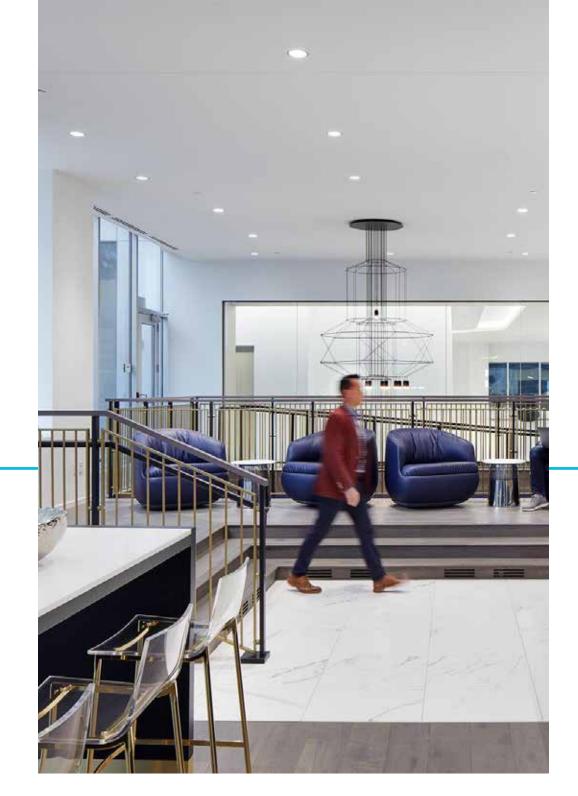

A Guide for the NEW WORLD

Let's face it – the workplace of today is light-years from where we were five years ago. In today's world, hybrid work models are the norm, and change-weary employees are often asked to adapt to new methods of work. This is why we must rise to meet the challenges and demands of this new era.

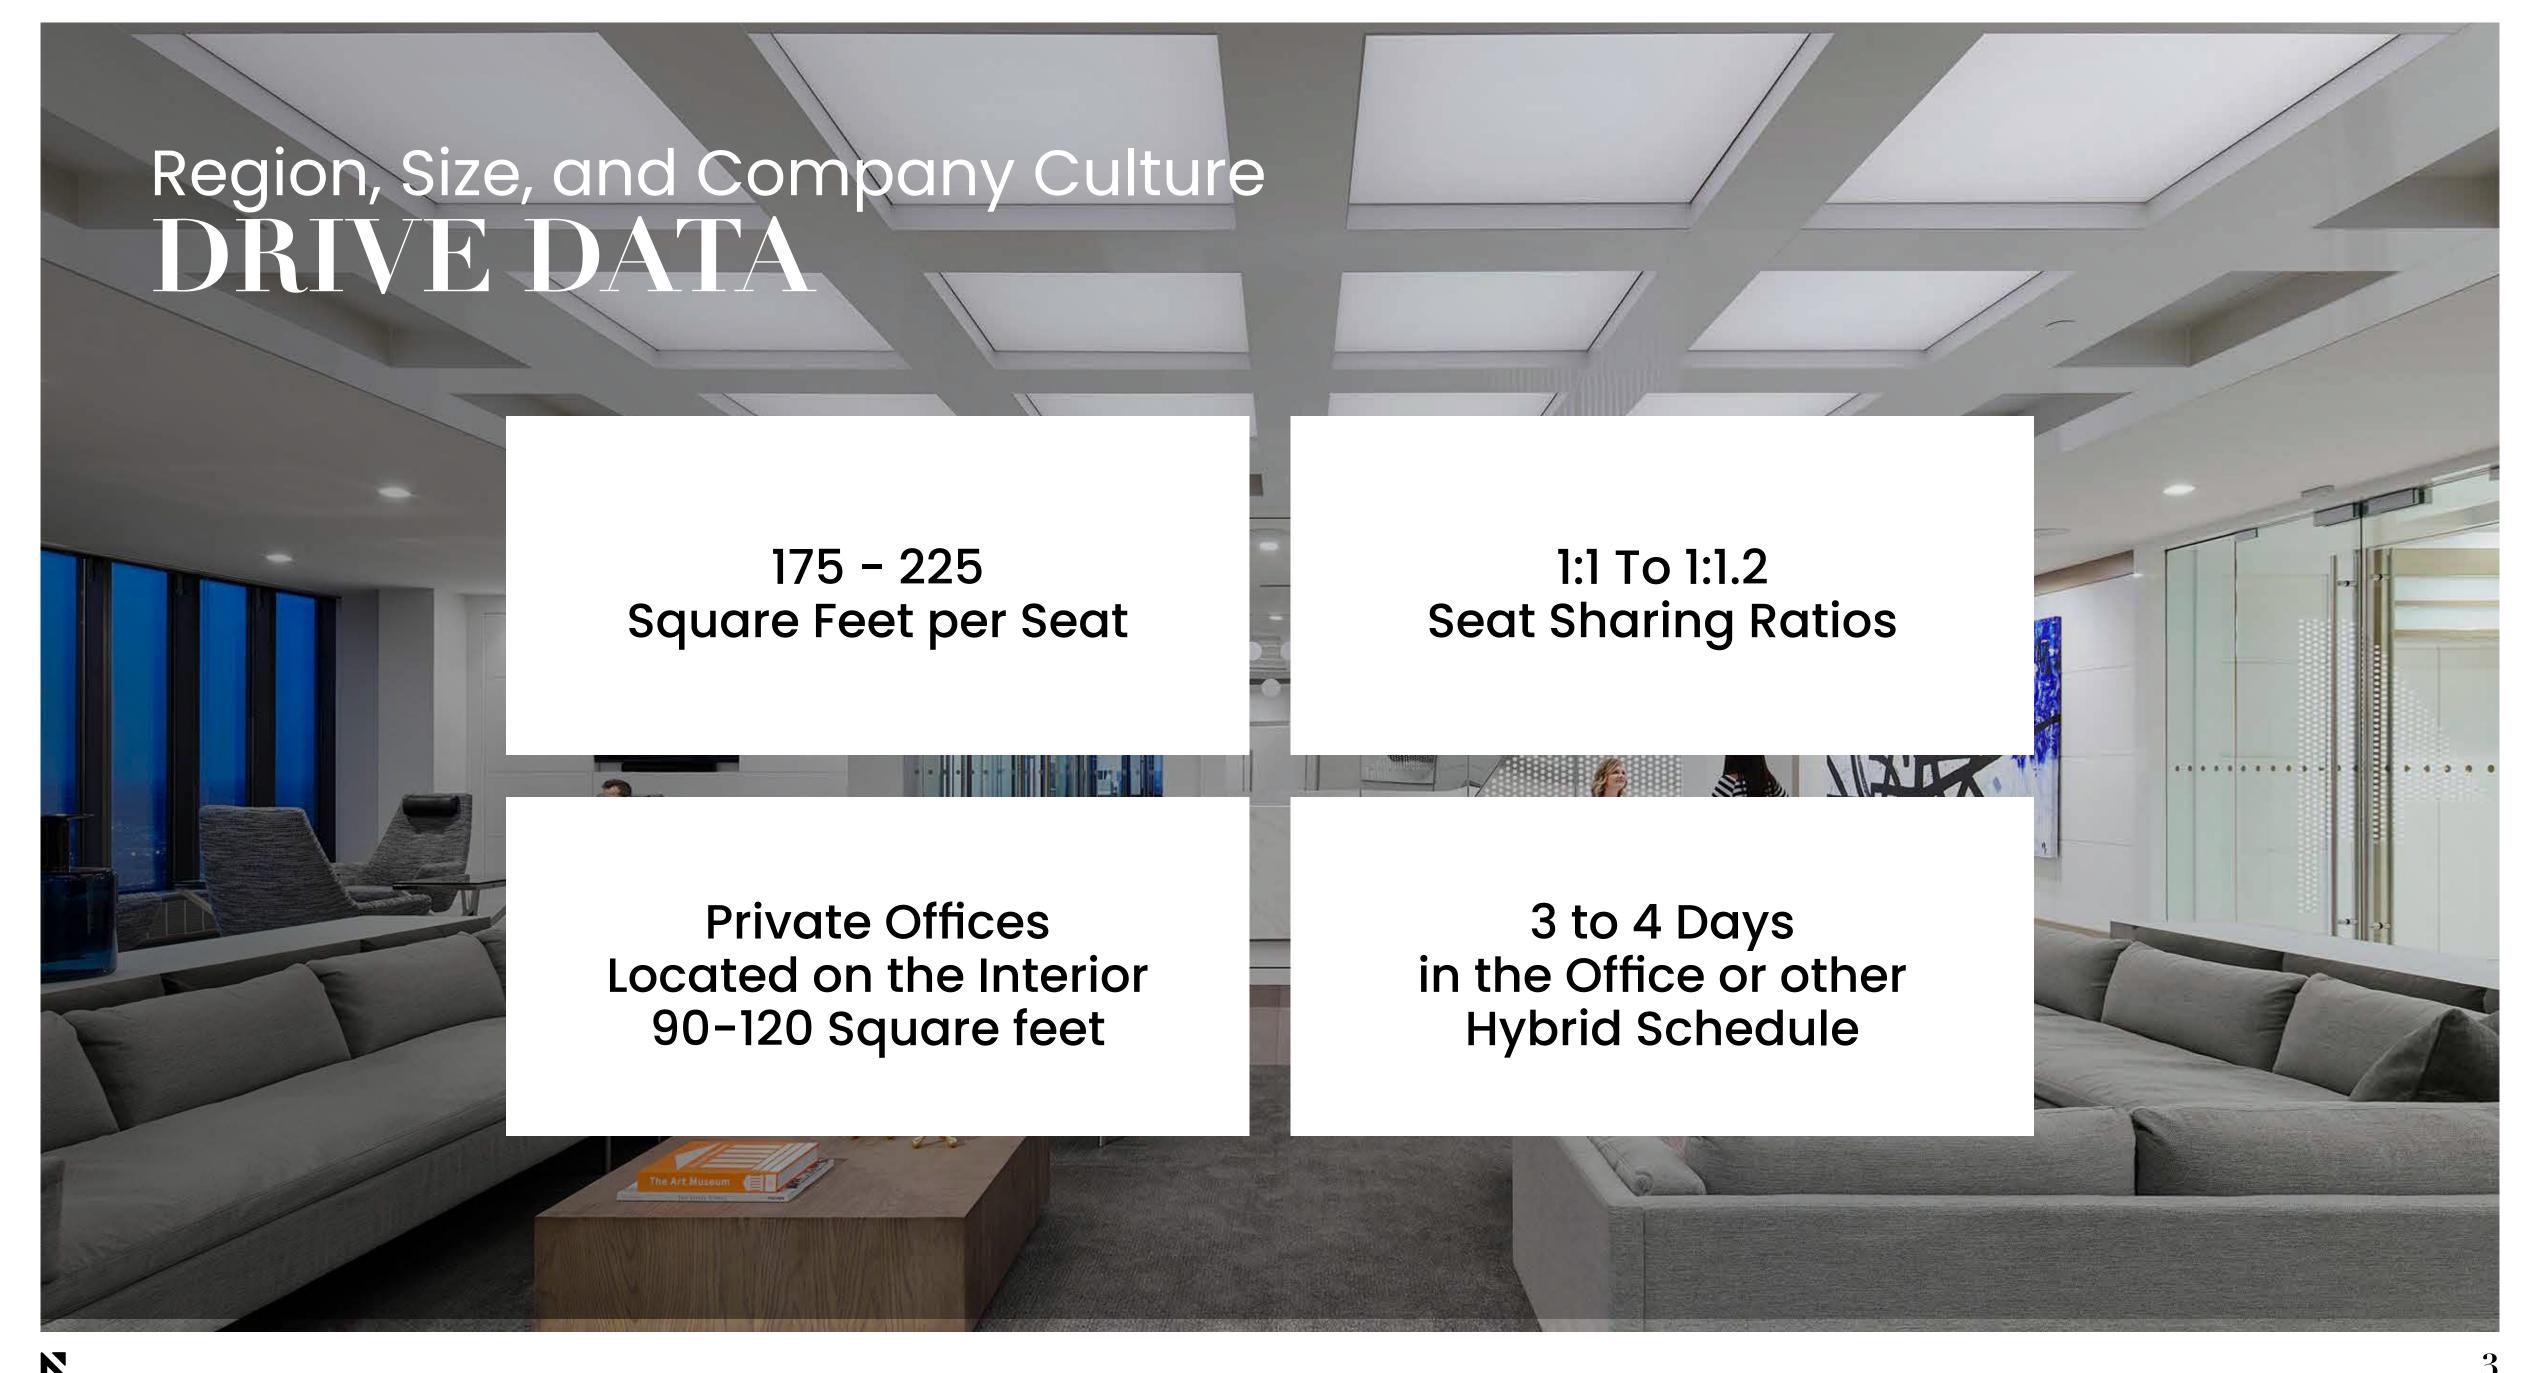

At NELSON, we're rewriting the rules by boldly transforming the employee experience through innovative architecture and design, revolutionizing the way professionals work in the financial services sector.

With more than 25 years of experience designing nearly 90 million square feet of space for Fortune 50 and 500 financial service and banking firms, in addition to countless partnerships with venture capital firms and independent financial advisors, we've distilled our perspective and knowledge into seven core insights. Go ahead – read on and see how these insights offer firms guidance as they look to shape a workplace that embodies their vision and empowers their teams to excel.

TWO22 TOWER | MINNEAPOLIS, MN

Core Insights into today's FINANCIAL SERVICES WORKPLACE

01

Scalable Growth

Hybrid work patterns, unpredictable market trends, and innovative business strategies call for highly adaptable solutions that can accommodate scalable growth and changes in work habits over time.

02

Redefined Space

Workstyle-driven configurations prioritize focus, offer variety and choice, and reduce individual footprints in favor of common and shared redefined spaces.

03

Personalized Experiences

Taking cues from our homes, workplaces are becoming more inviting through human-centered design that caters to individual preferences by fostering inclusive, amenity-rich, and customizable settings.

04

Designed to Connect

Designing workplaces that seamlessly integrate cutting-edge technology is imperative for eliminating barriers among individuals, offices, regions, and time zones.

05

Celebrating Identity

At the heart of every meaningful workplace is a celebration of brand and culture. Intentional and authentic design solutions allow for connection and personalization in a shared environment.

06

Multi-generational

For the first time ever, five generations occupy the workplace at once. Understanding the unique experiences of these vastly different workers can help create spaces that connect regardless of age.

07

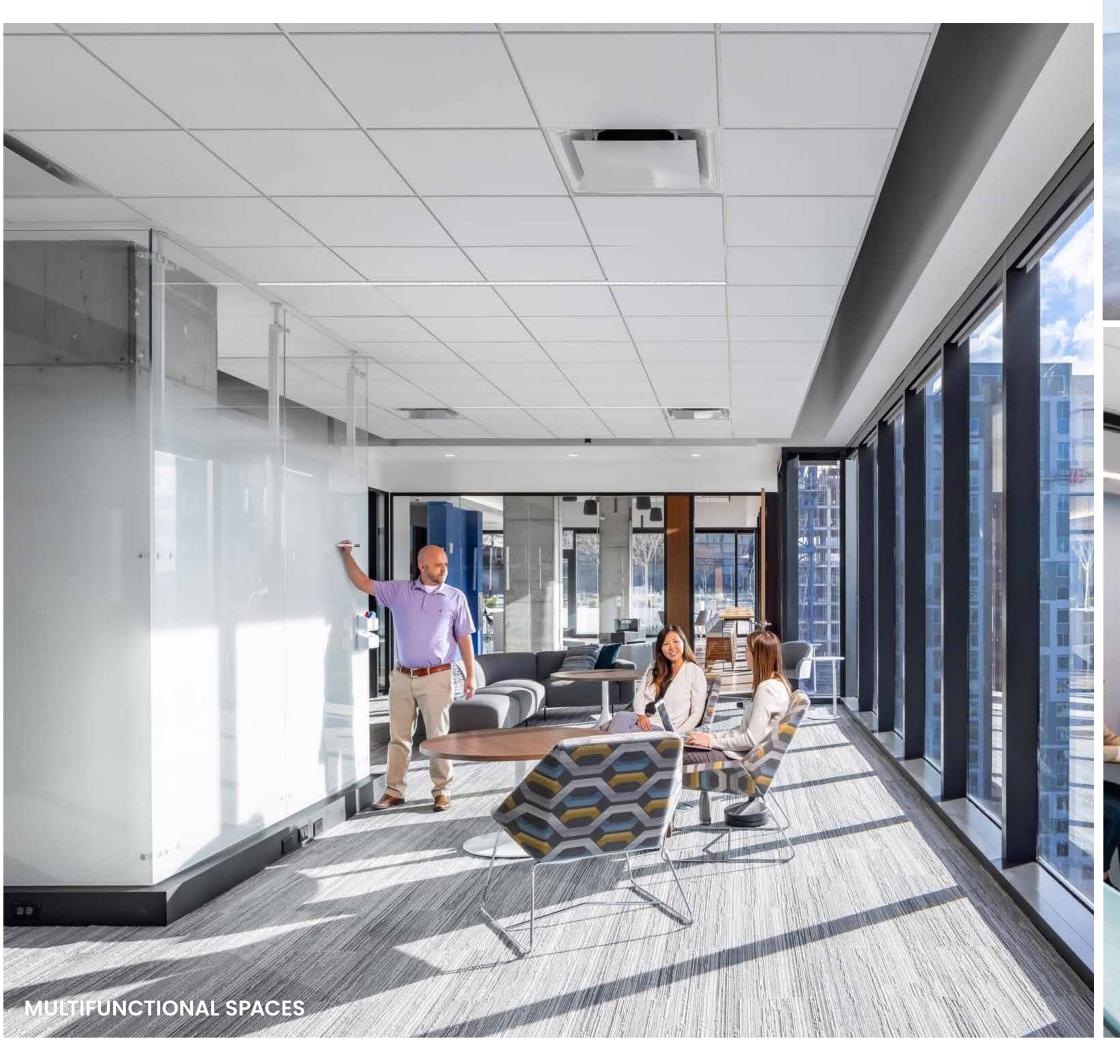

Sustainability & Wellness

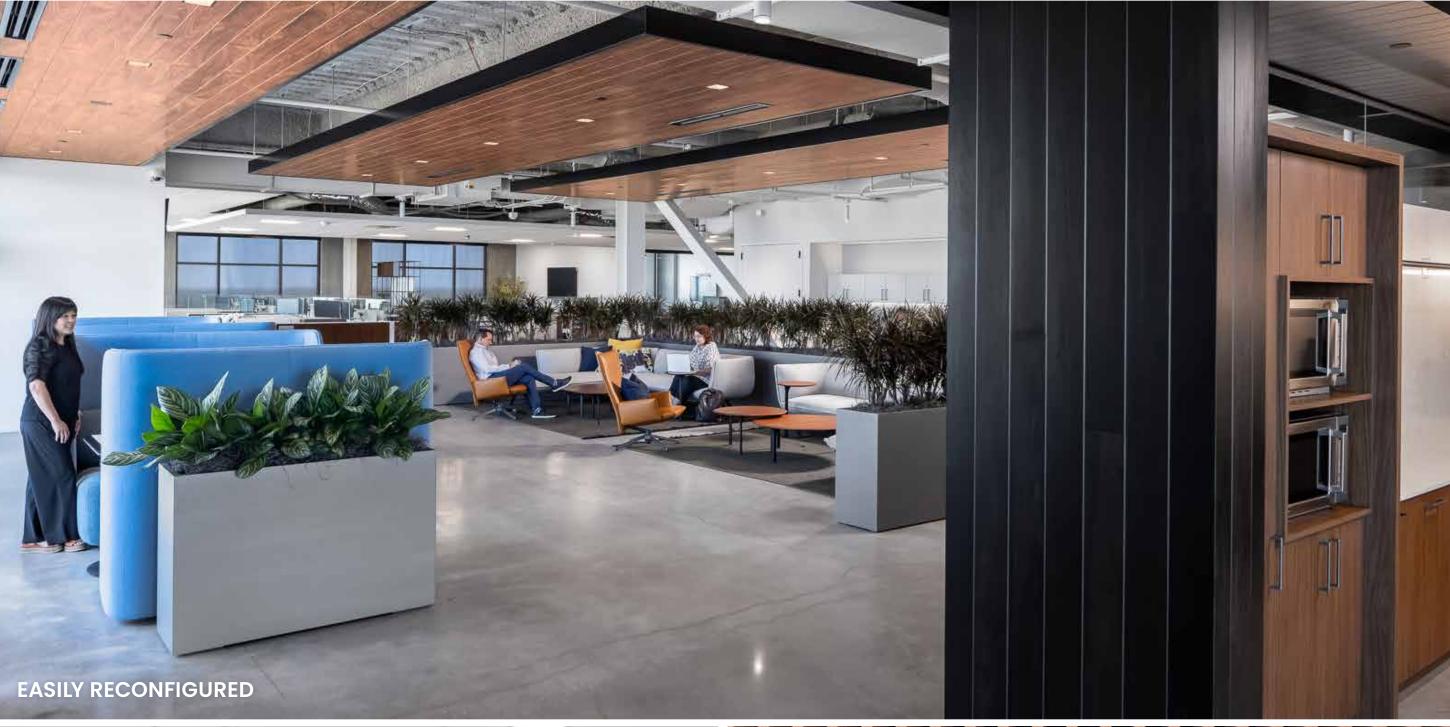

Improving wellbeing in the workplace has positive implications for business outcomes and physical health.

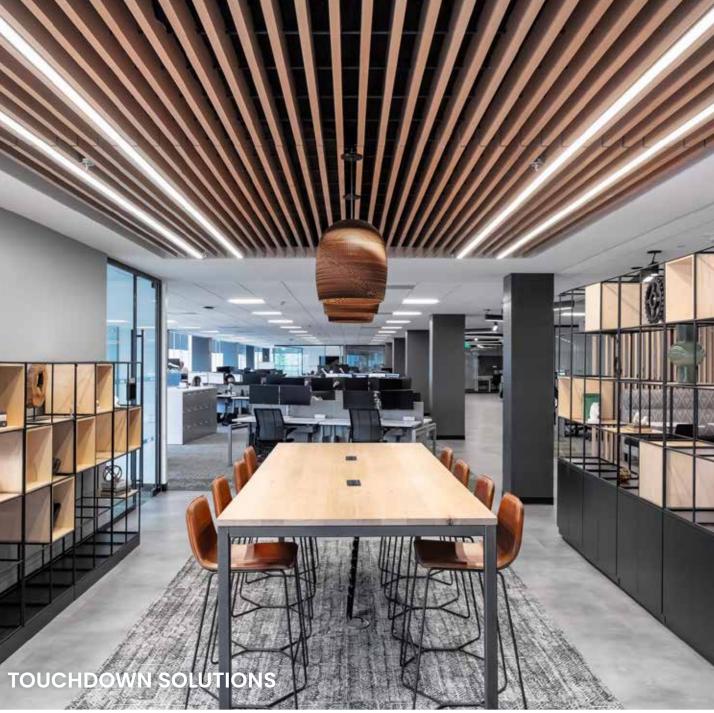

SCALABLE GROWTH

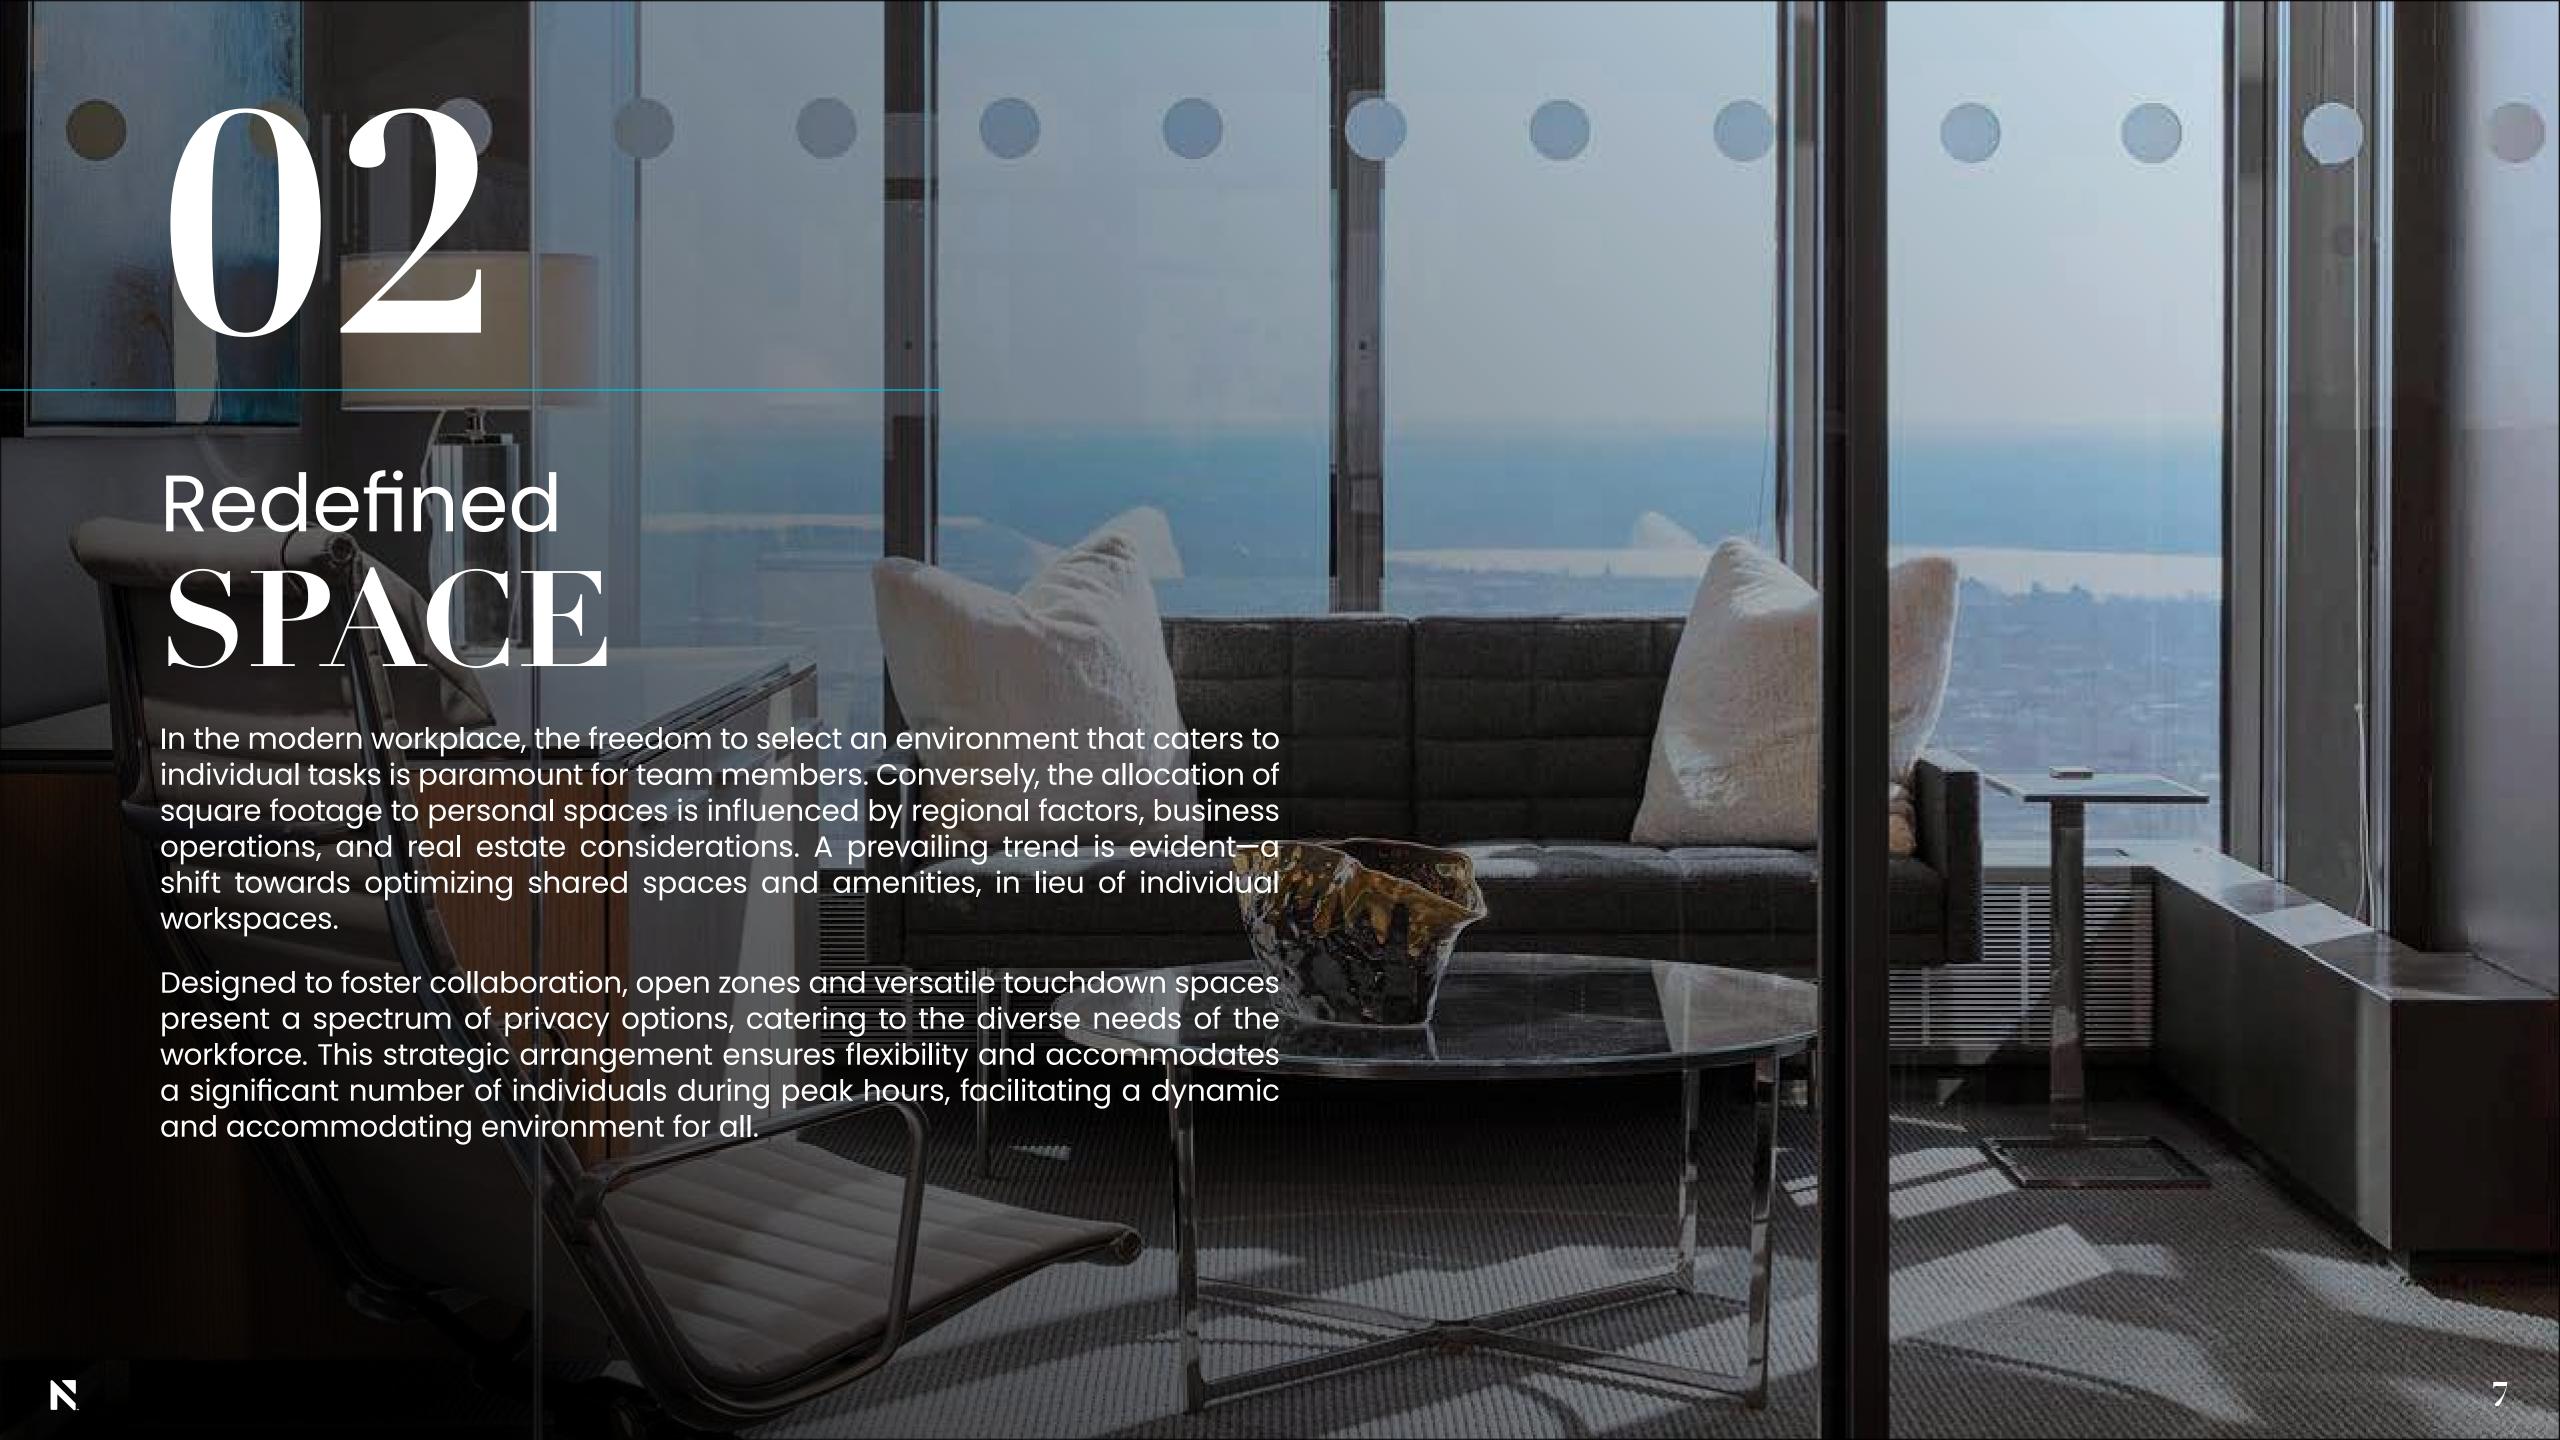

Flexible And Adaptable Neighborhoods

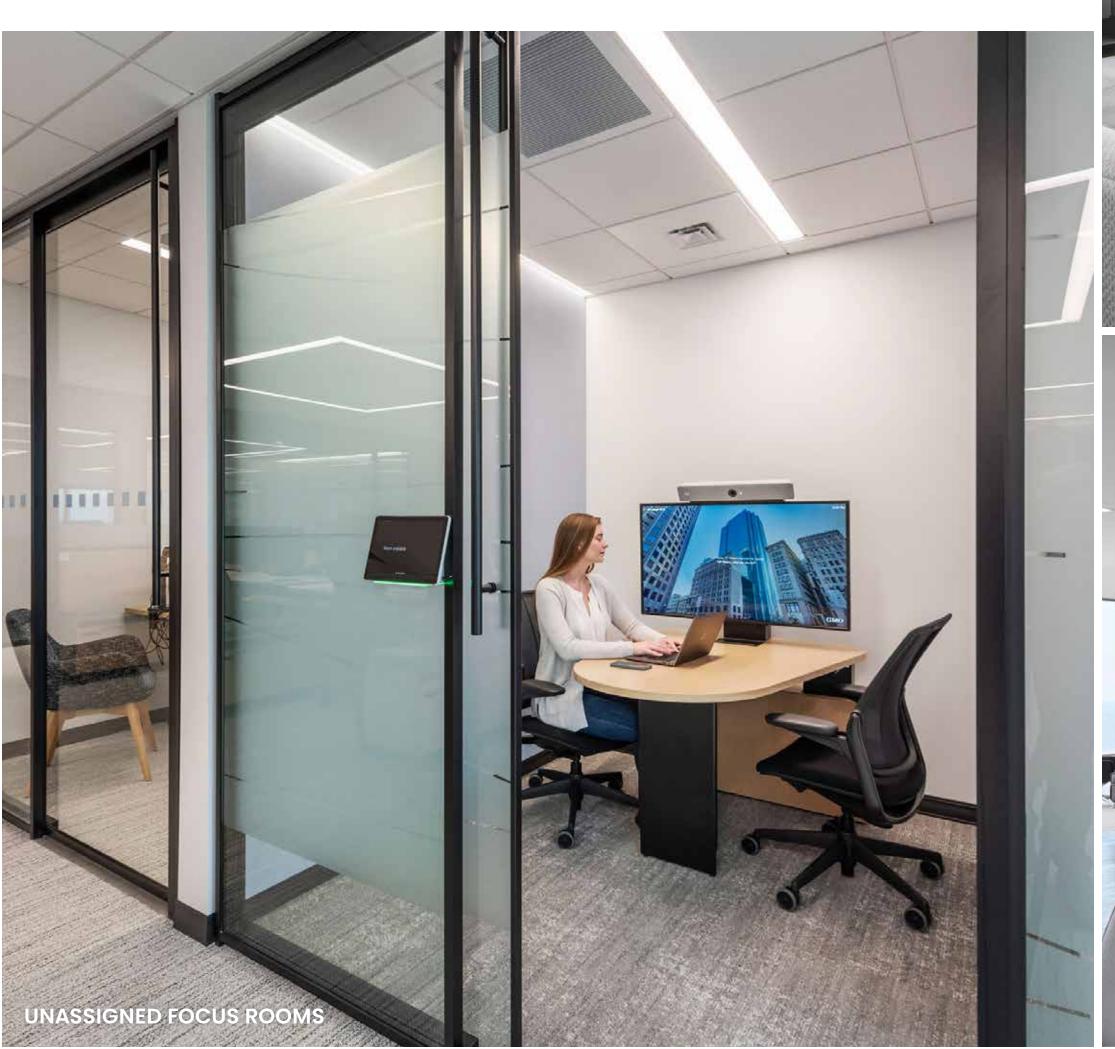

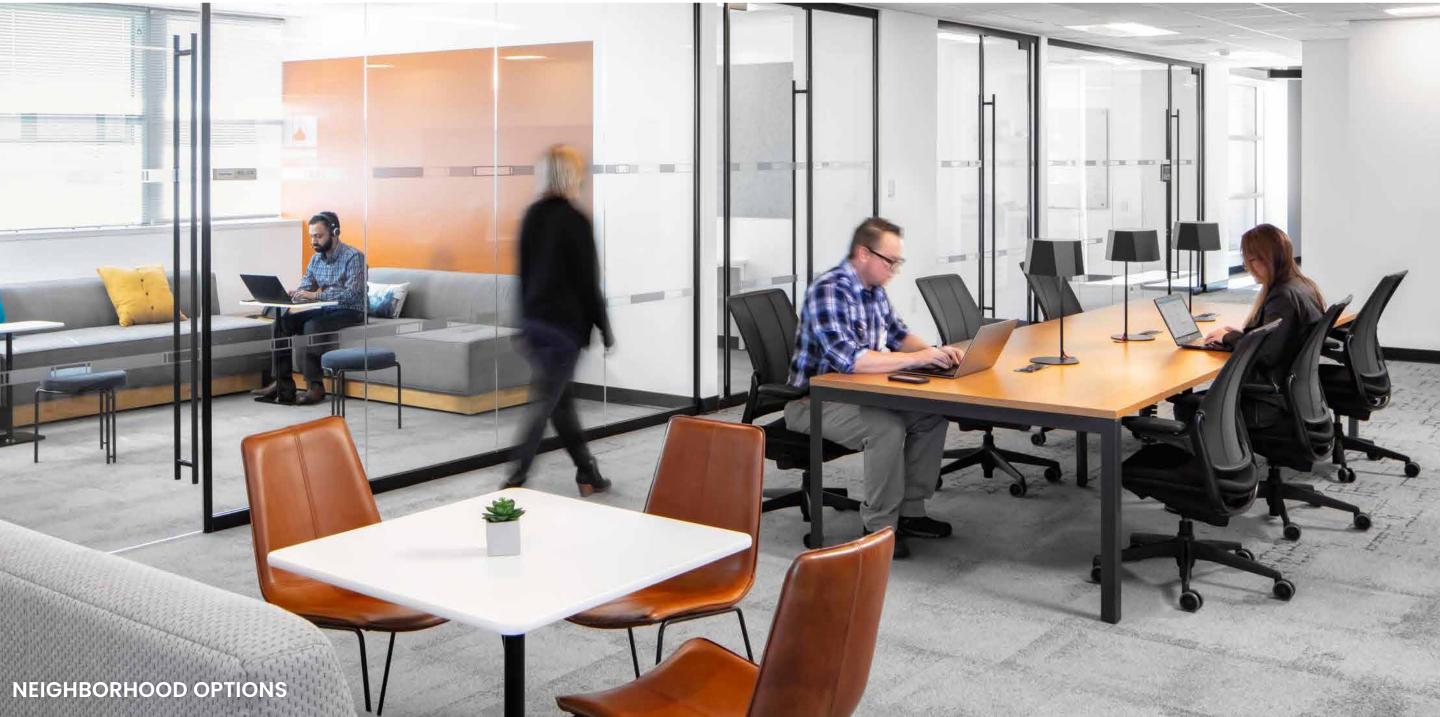

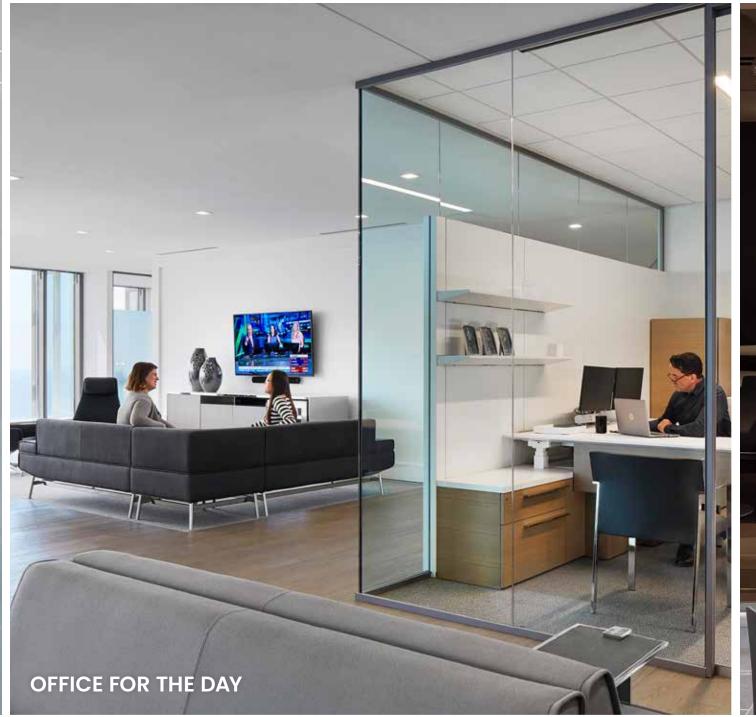

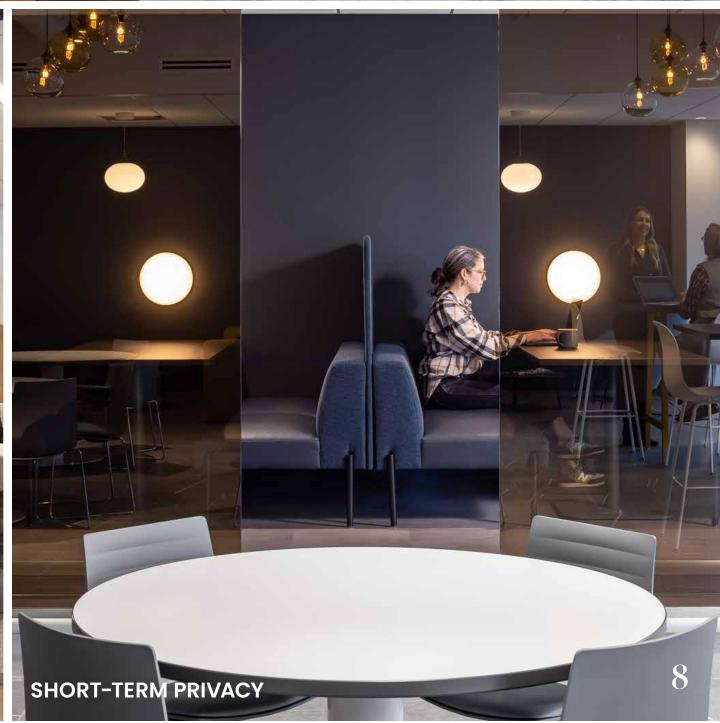

REDEFINED SPACE

Embracing Variety and Choice

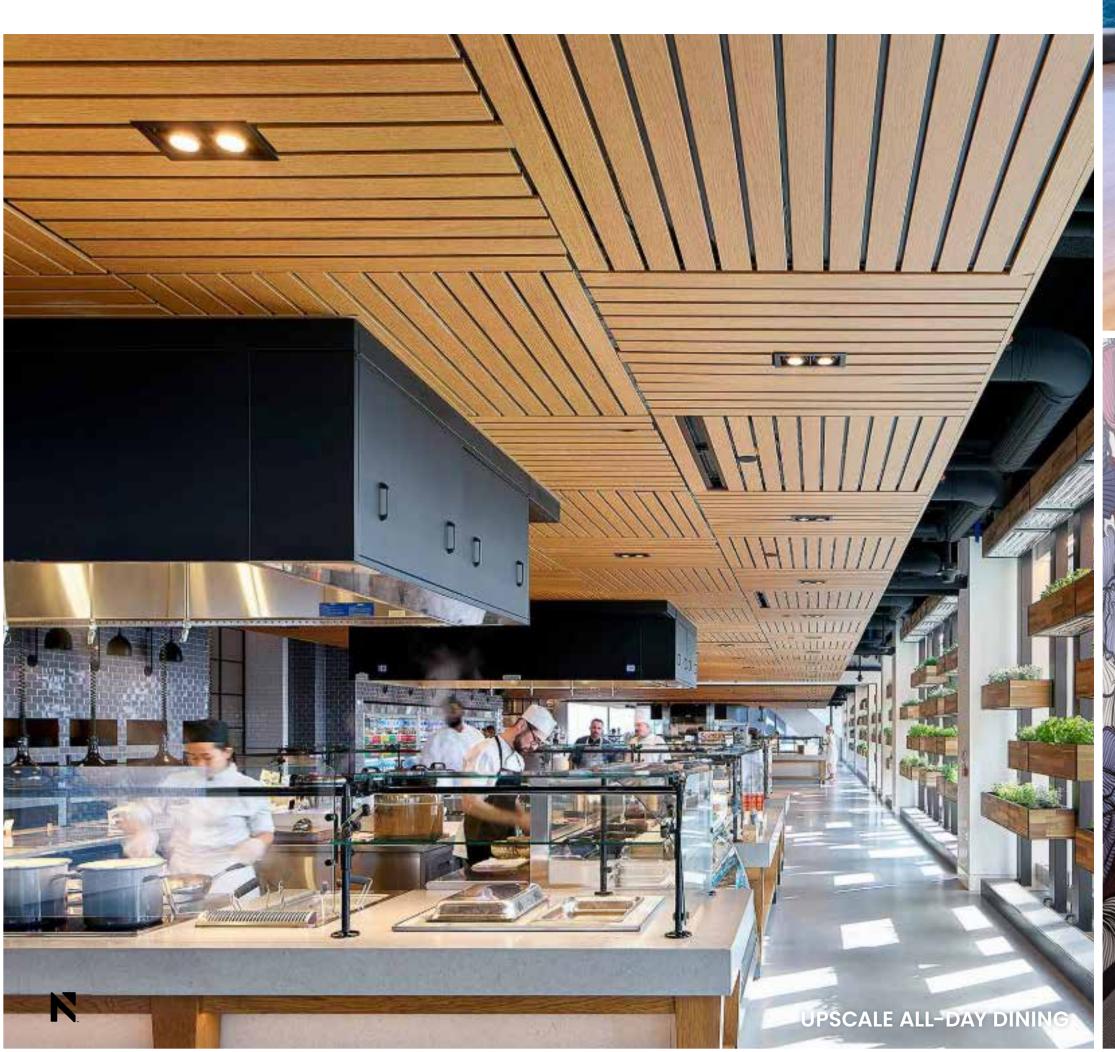

PERSONALIZED EXPERIFICES

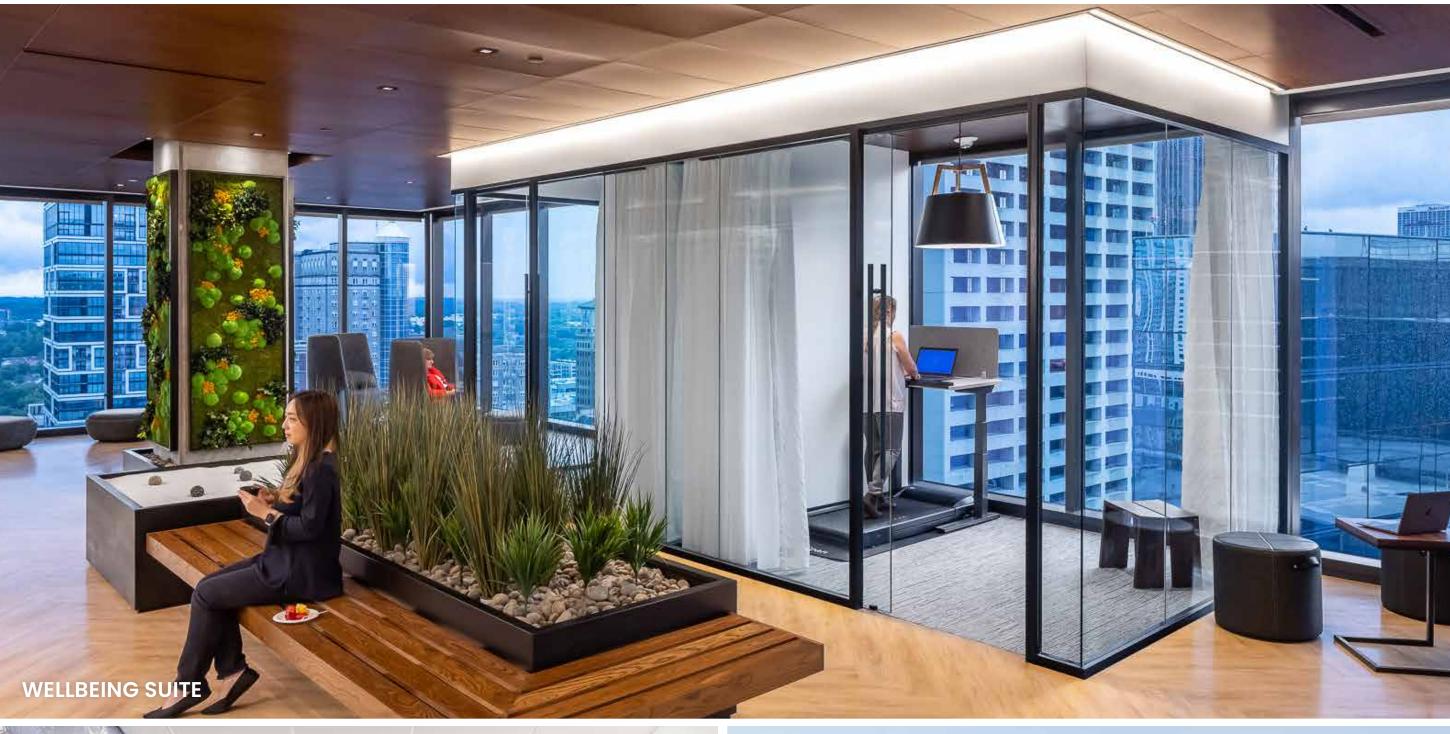

In our interconnected world, work seamlessly integrates both physical and digital spaces. Within the office, employees seek an environment that blends the comforts of home with the benefits of choice and control. This requires the integration of enhanced technology, adaptable furnishings, varied work settings, opportunities for social connection, and considerations for acoustics to make the commute worthwhile.

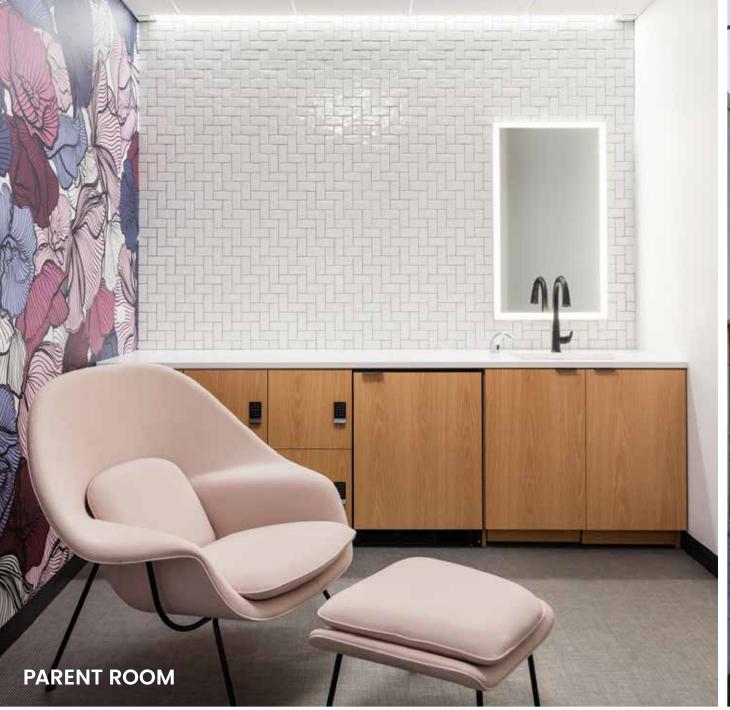

Our human-centric design approach recognizes diverse experiences and interactions with the world. Whether individuals seek activity and energy in a communal hub or crave the solitude of a private nook, the modern workplace should cater to varied needs. Embracing neurodiversity and inclusivity, it should offer supportive spaces, such as areas for sound-sensitive individuals or flexible settings for movement, ensuring that every team member's unique journey and requirements are considered and met.

PERSONALIZED EXPERIENCES

Supporting Individual Needs

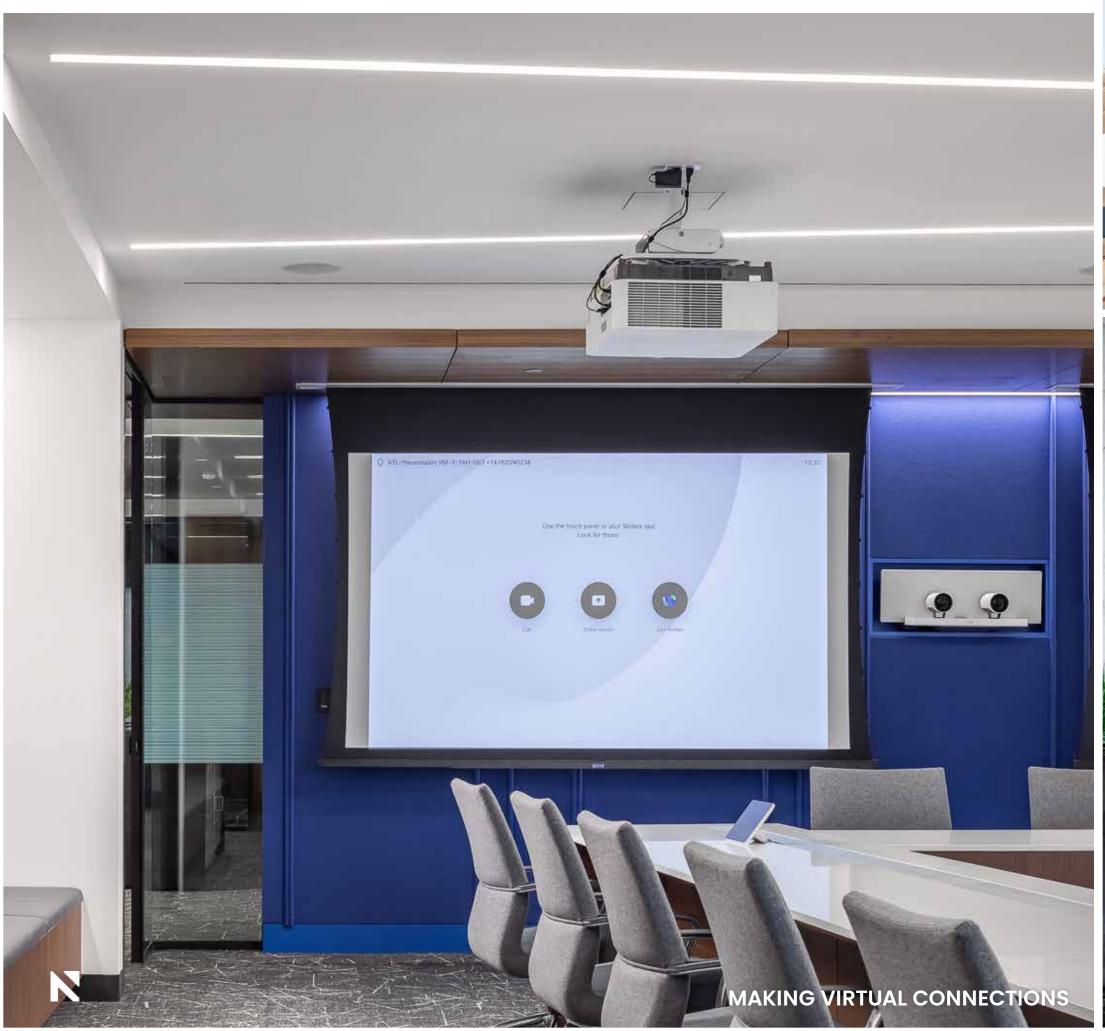

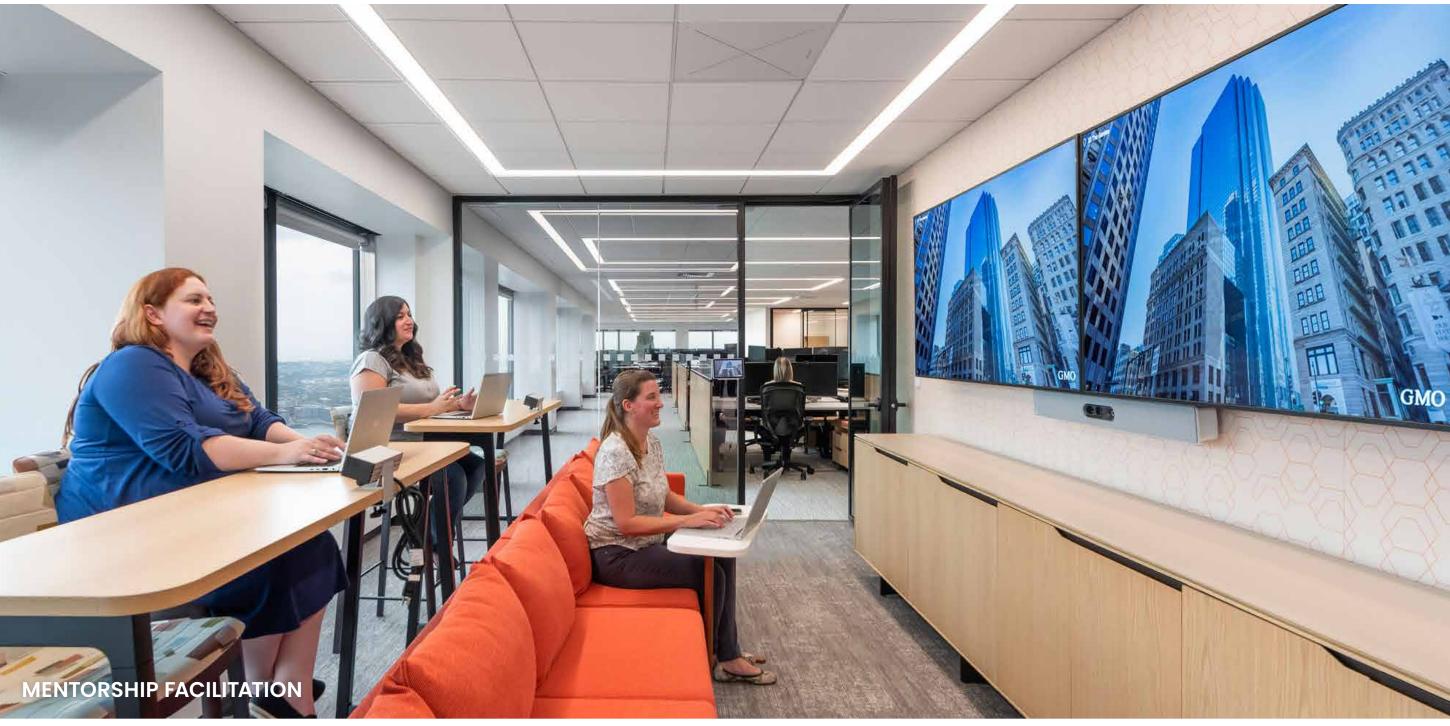

TO CONNECT

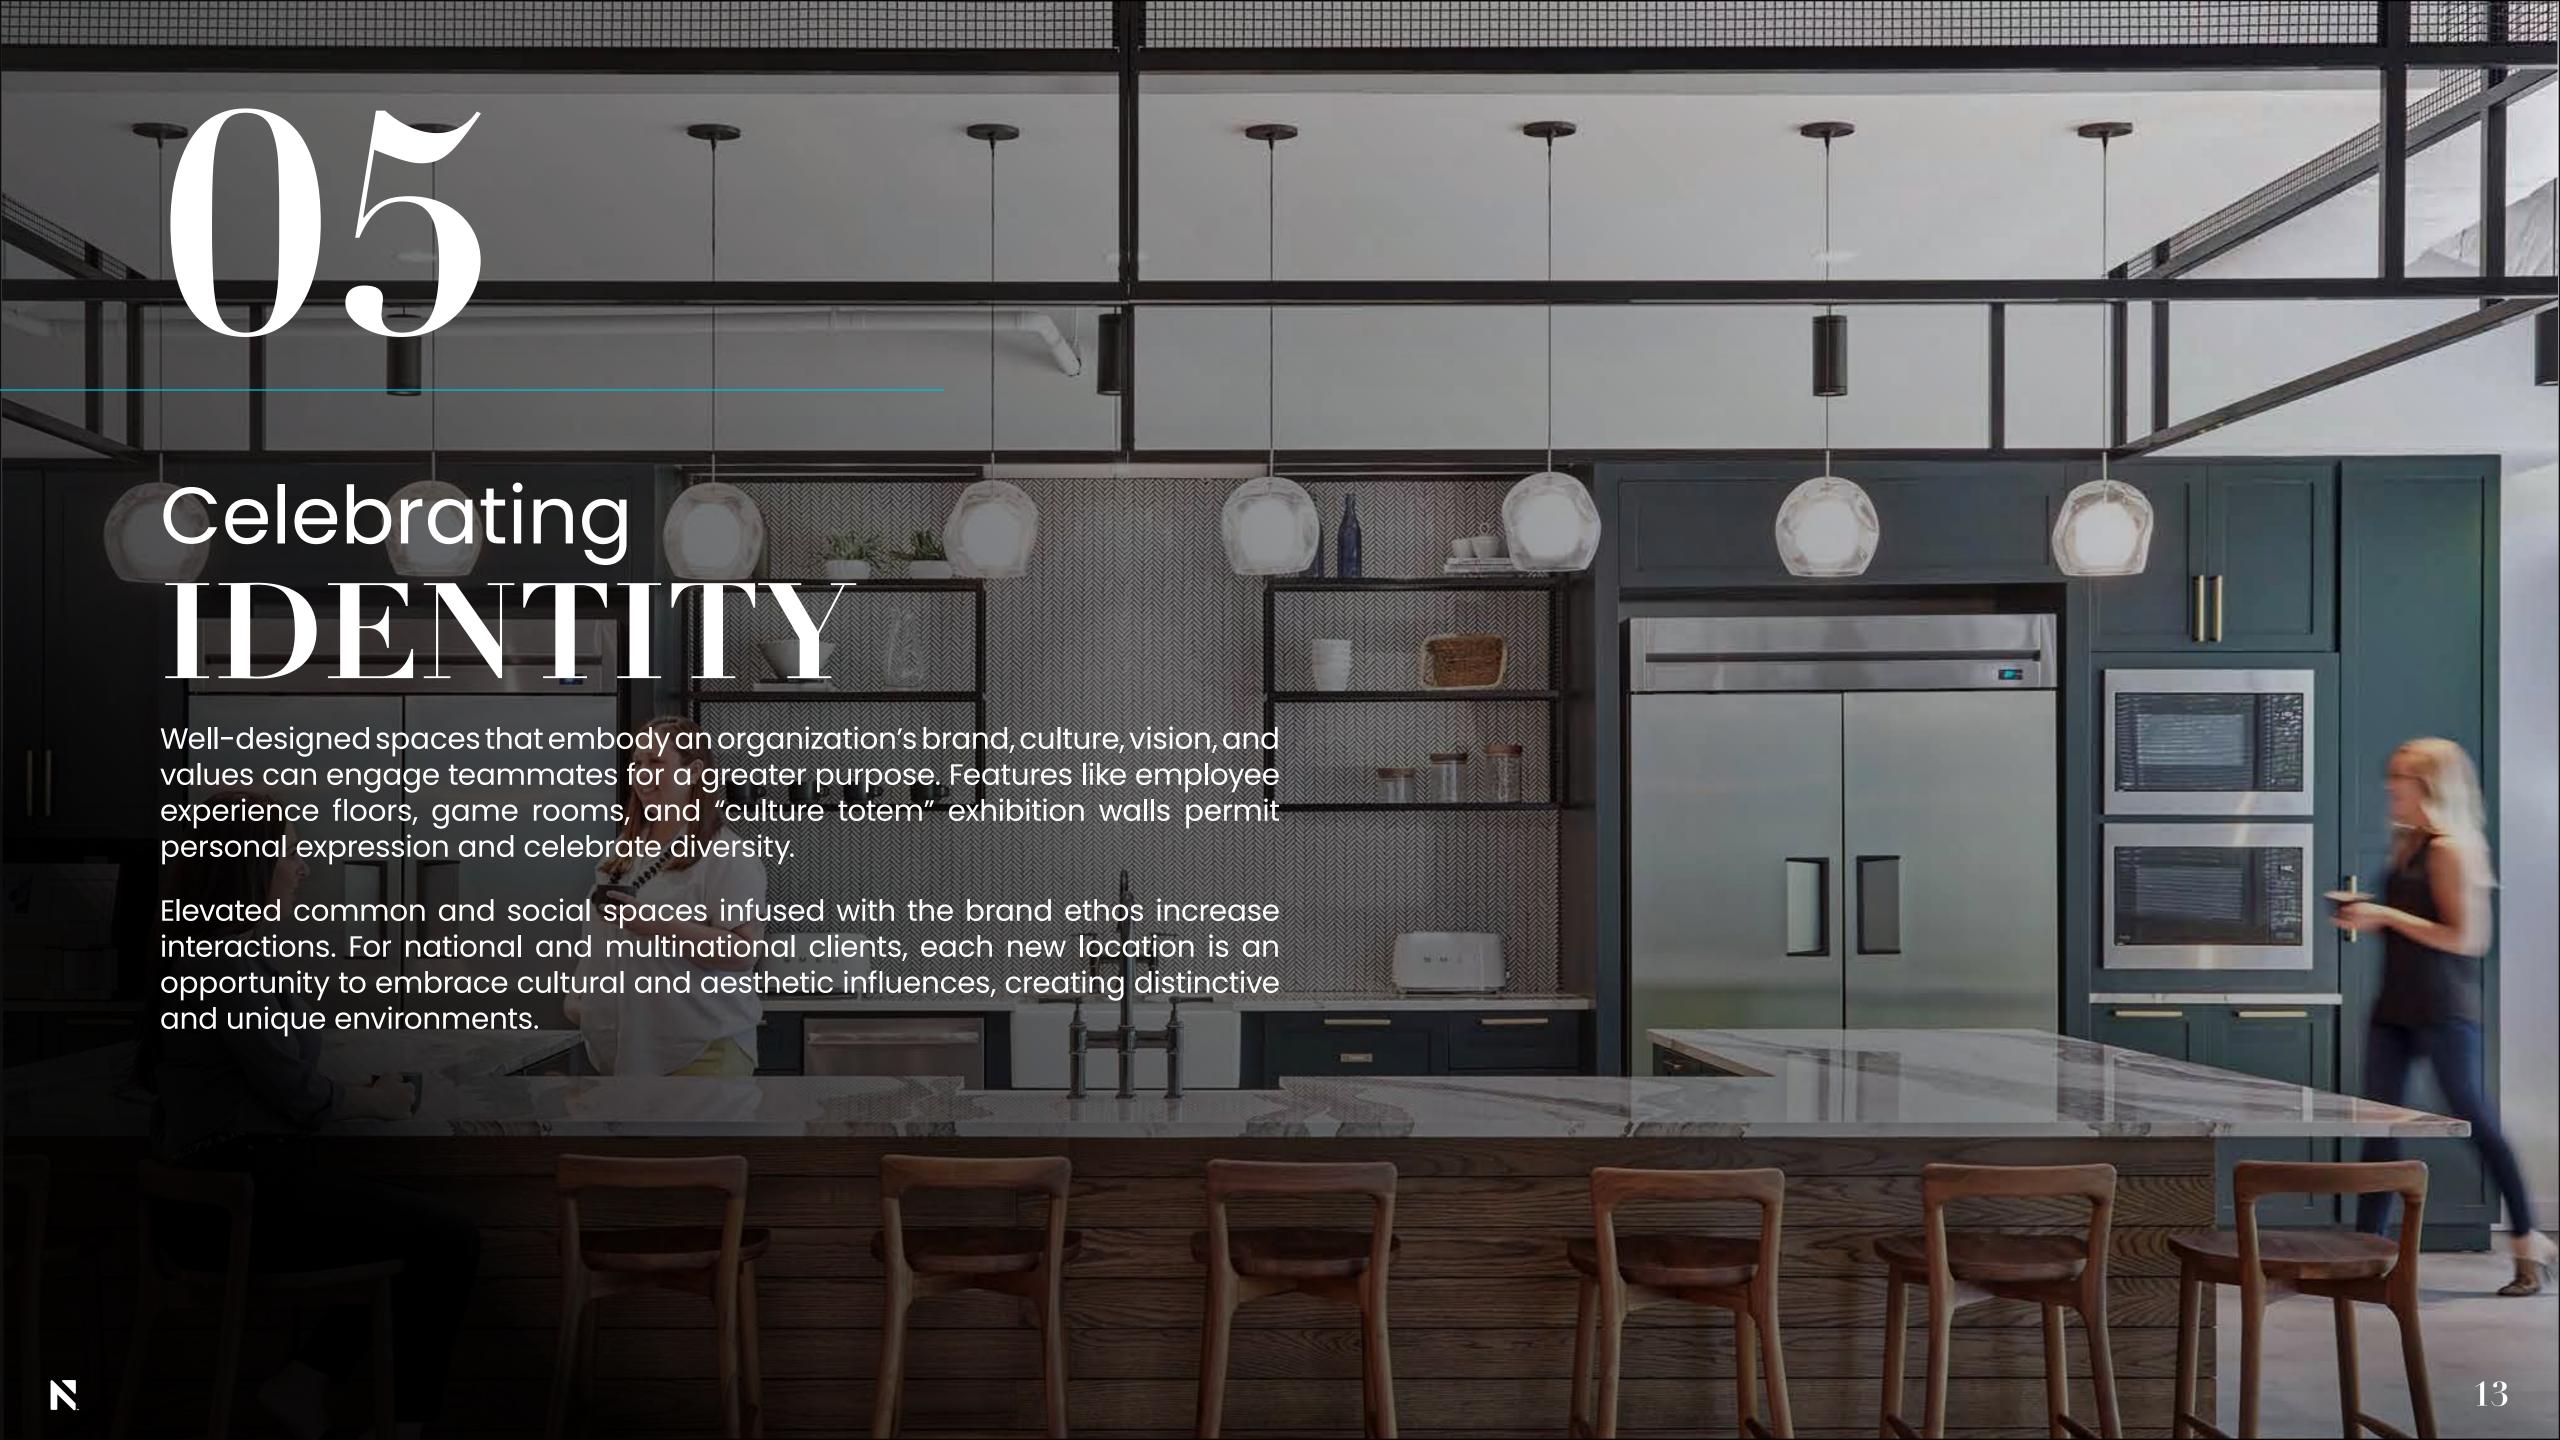

Erasing Boundaries

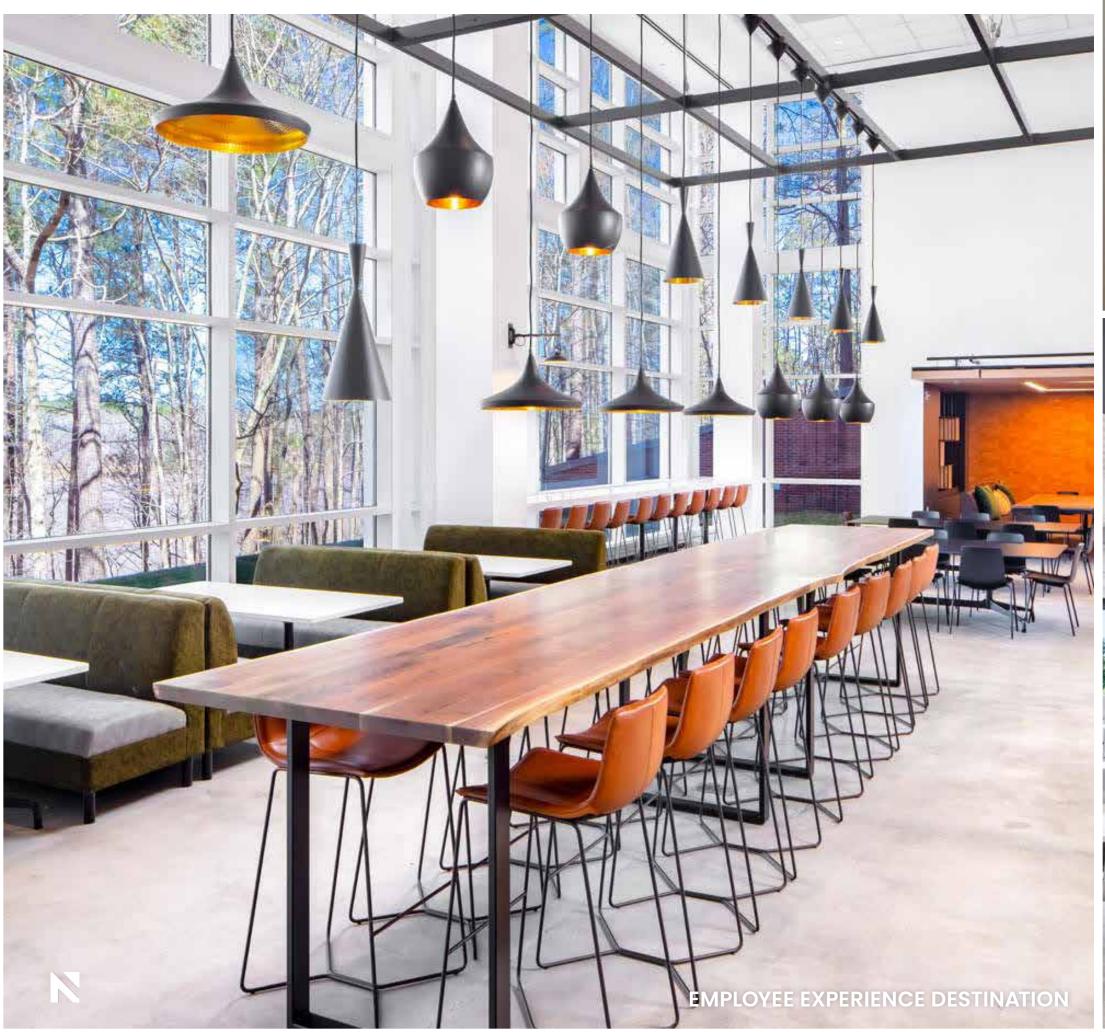

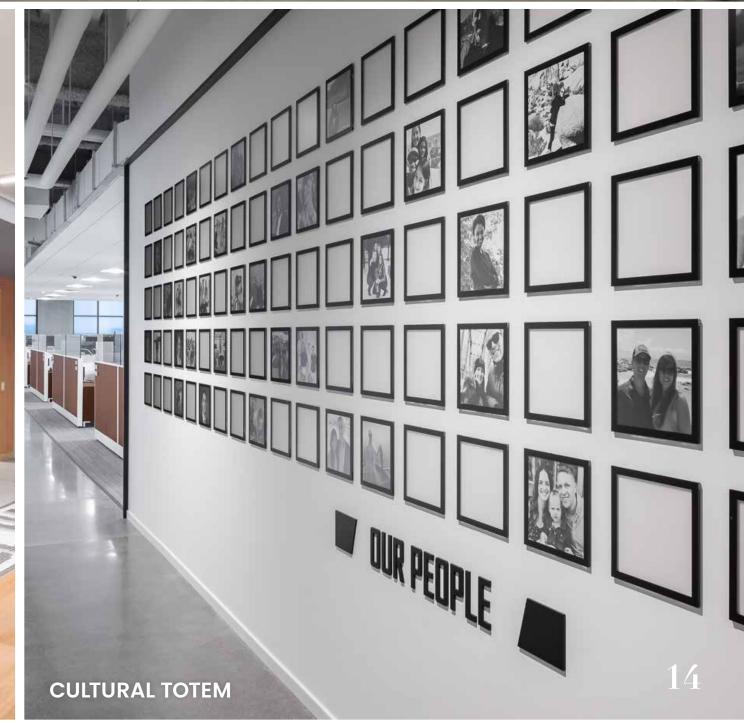

CELEBRATING IDENTITY

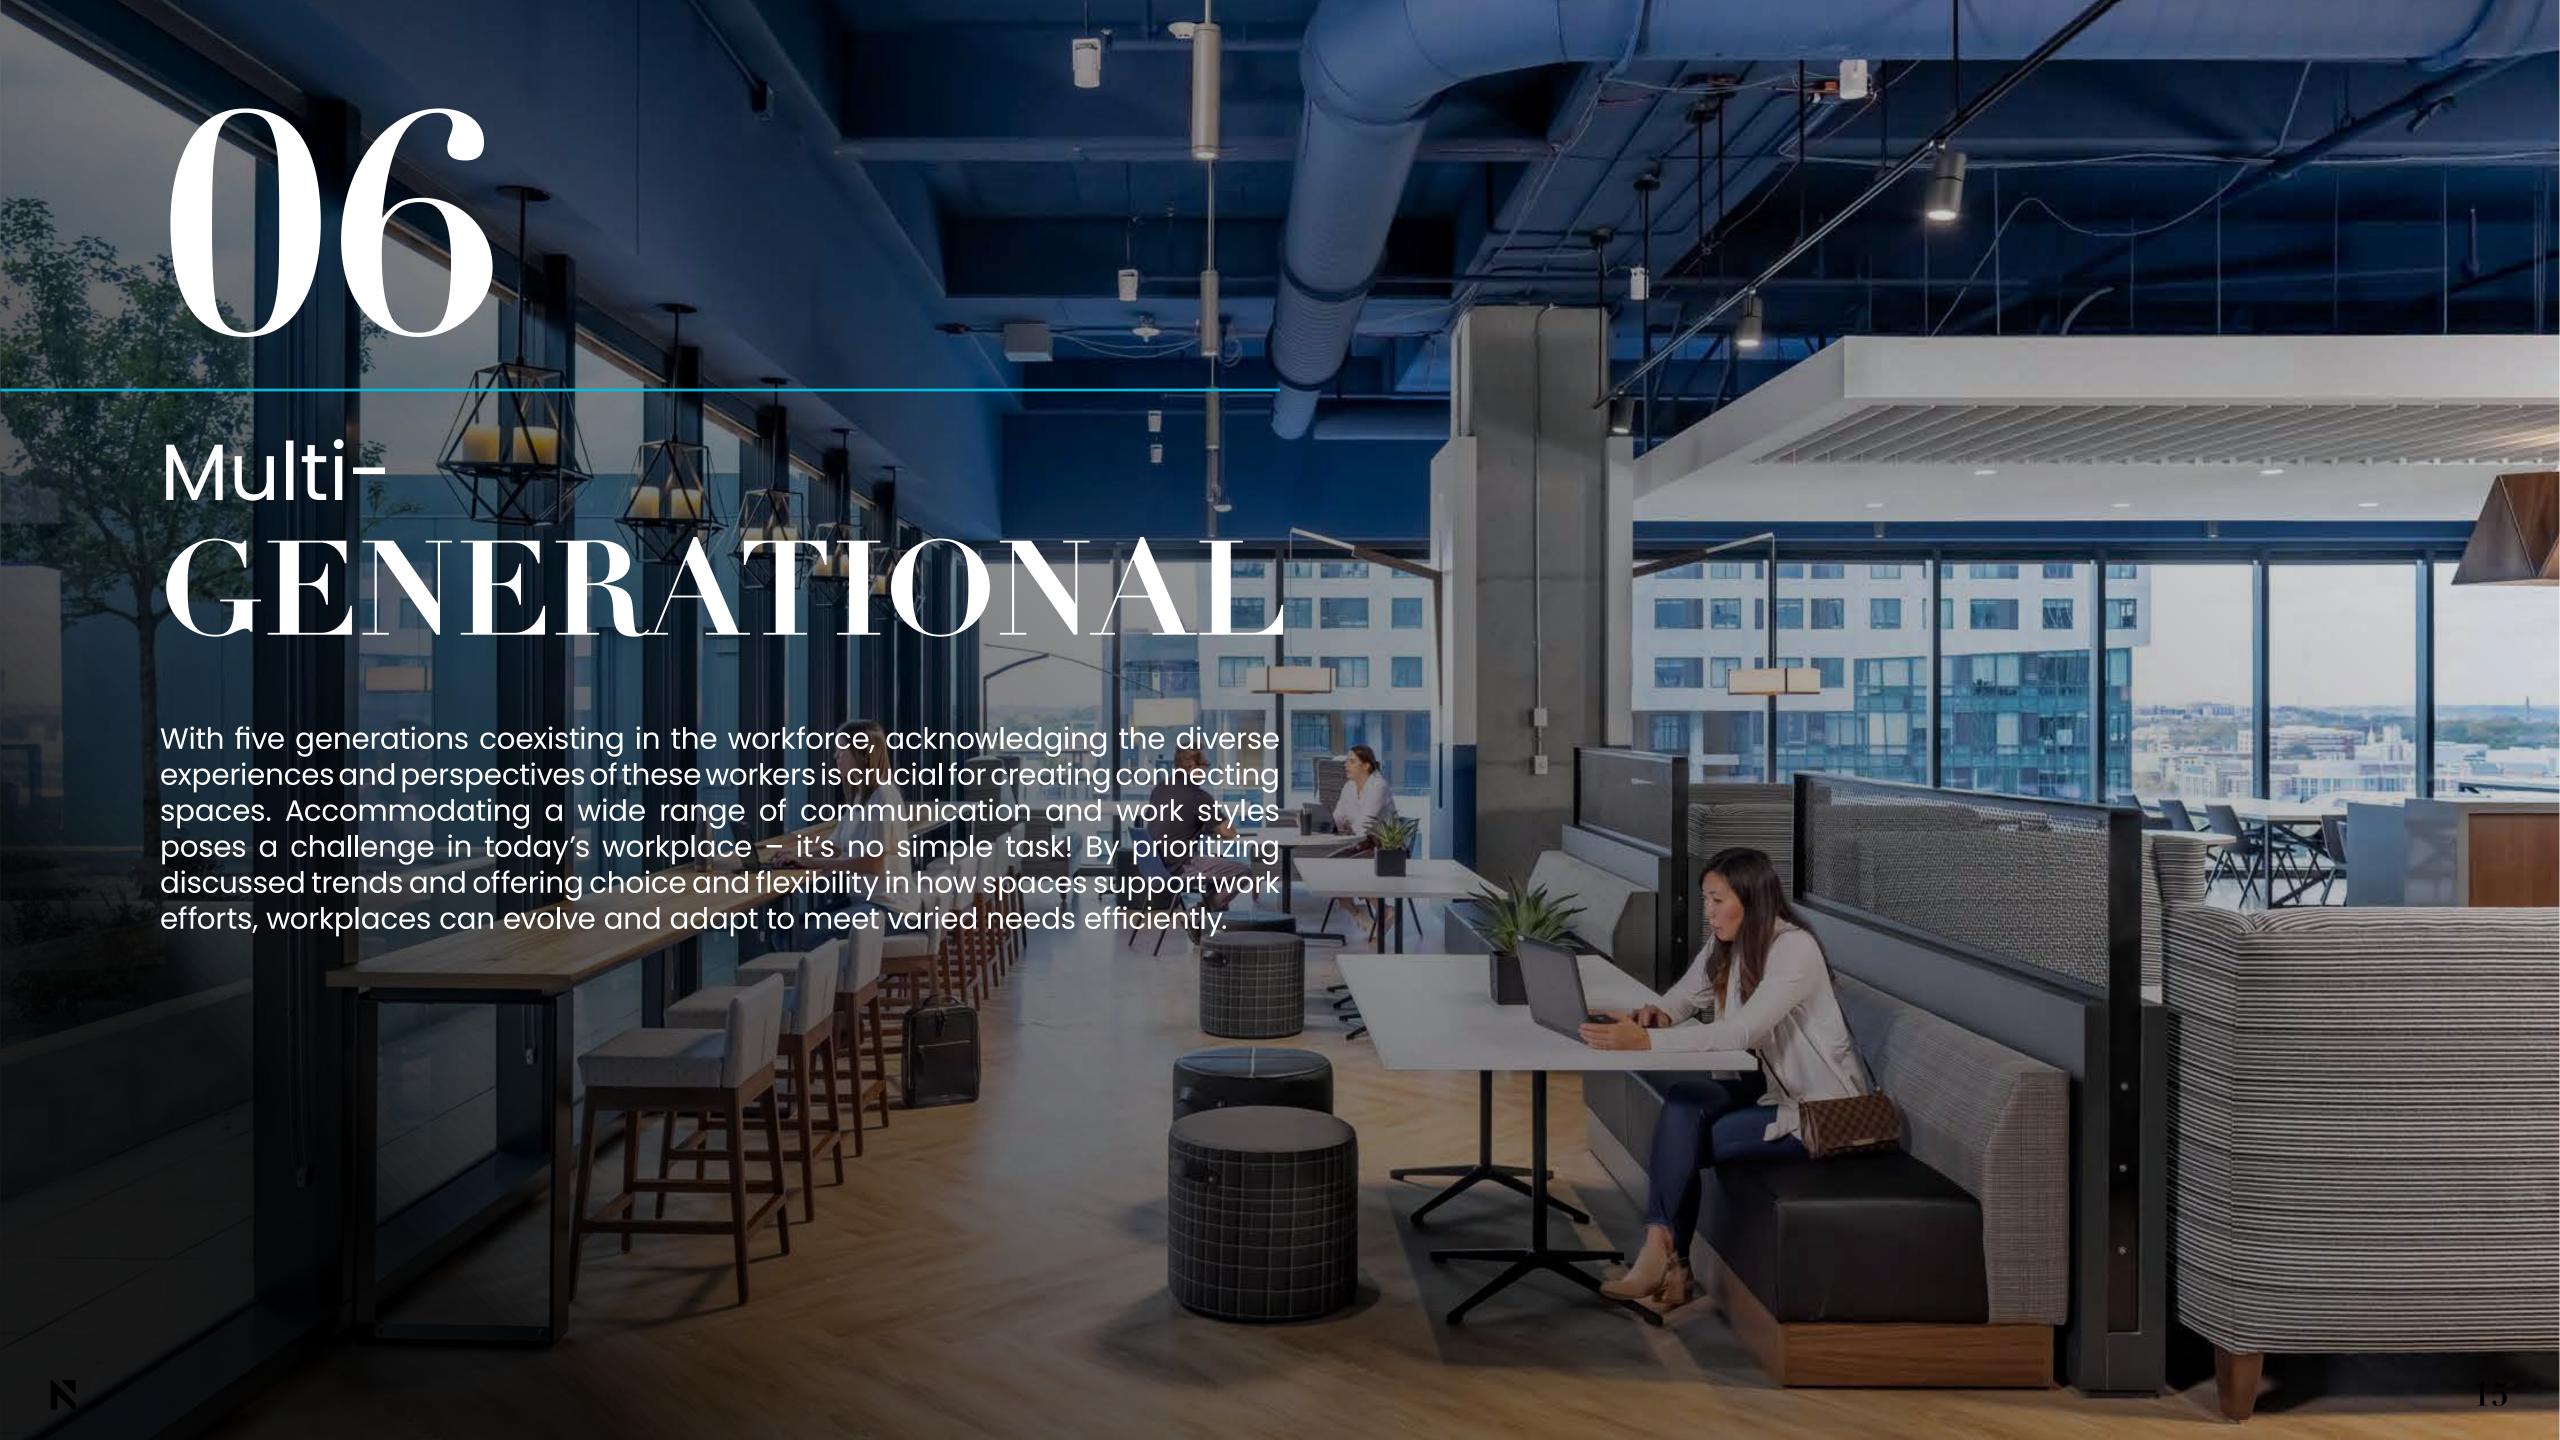

Brand and Culture in Focus

 \mathbf{Z}

Communication WORKSTYLES

TRADITIONALIST

75 MILLION | PRE 1946

- Crave rules
- Respect authority
- Duty to organization takes precedence over personal life
- Promote based on seniority

BABY BOOMERS

70 MILLION | 1946-1964

- Strive for fairness
- Feel like their success is in other's hands
- Find hierarchy helpful
- Focus on face-to-face
- Work long hours

GENERATION X

60 MILLION | 1965-1979

- Crave control
- Demand high productivity
- Want to have fun
- Current leaders
- Sandwich generation
- Trying to adapt

MILLENNIALS

82 MILLION | 1980-1994

- Most collaborative generation in history
- High ethical standards
- Want to talk things through
- Want to be in-person
- Desire recognition

GENERATION Z

72 MILLION | 1995-2012

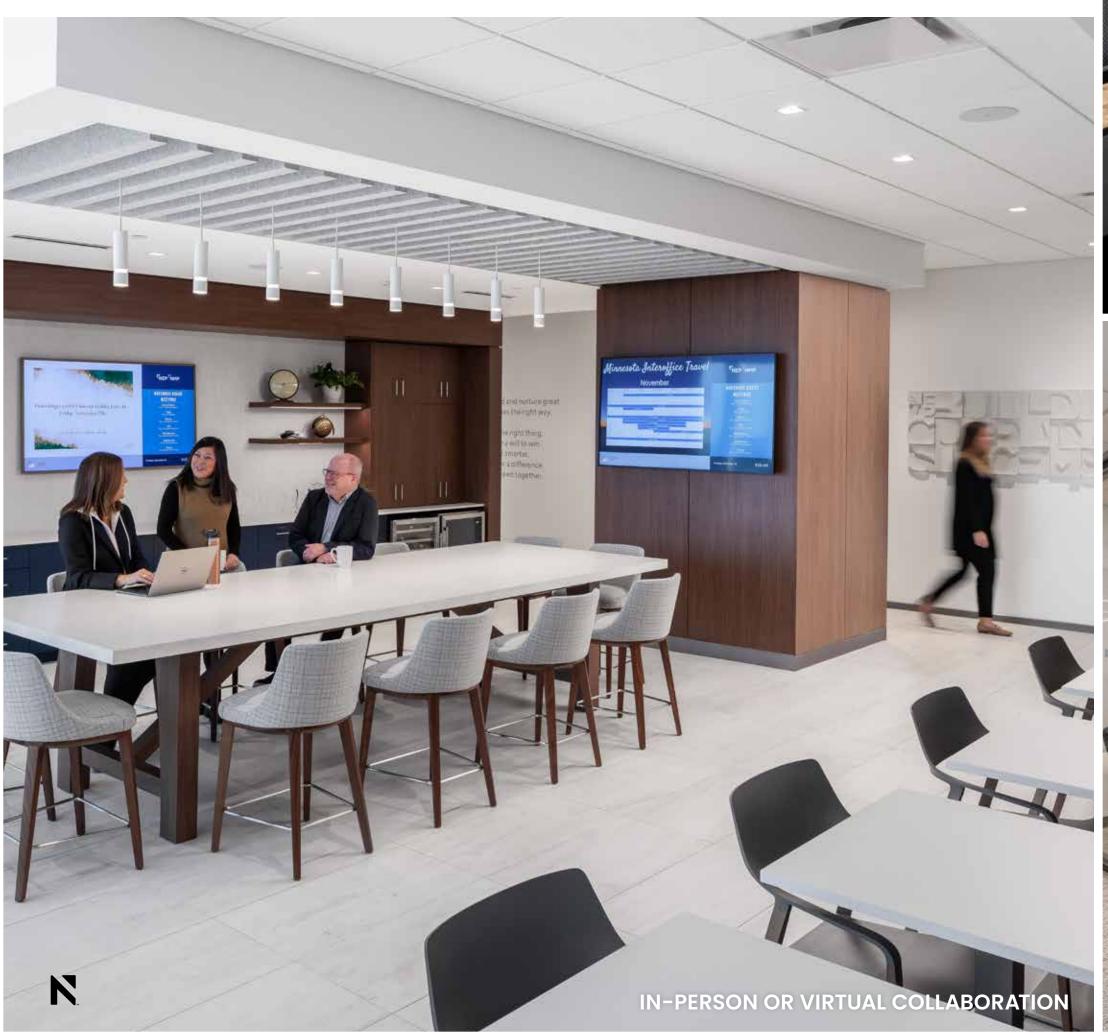

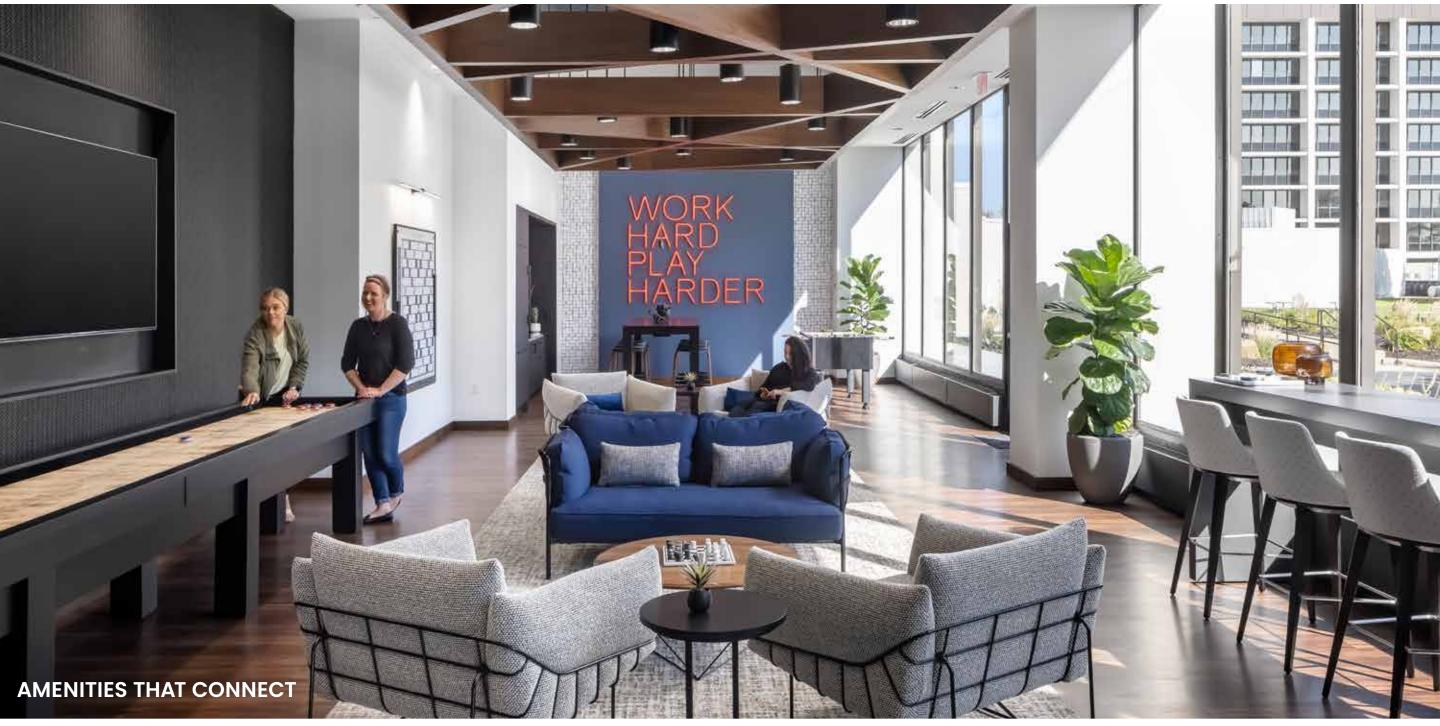

- Thrive on their own
- Extremely competitive
- Don't understand the value of being in-person
- Values money less than the previous generation

 \mathbf{N}

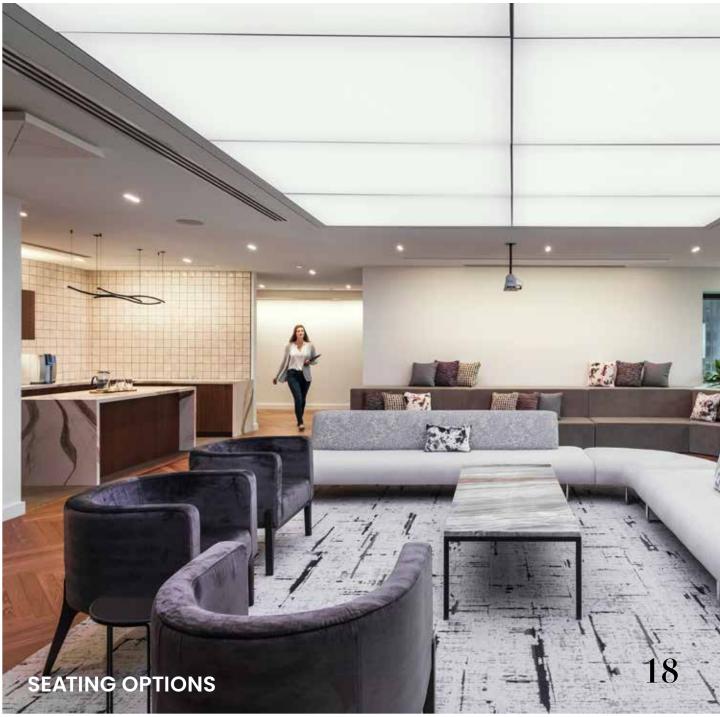

NULTI-GENERATIONAL

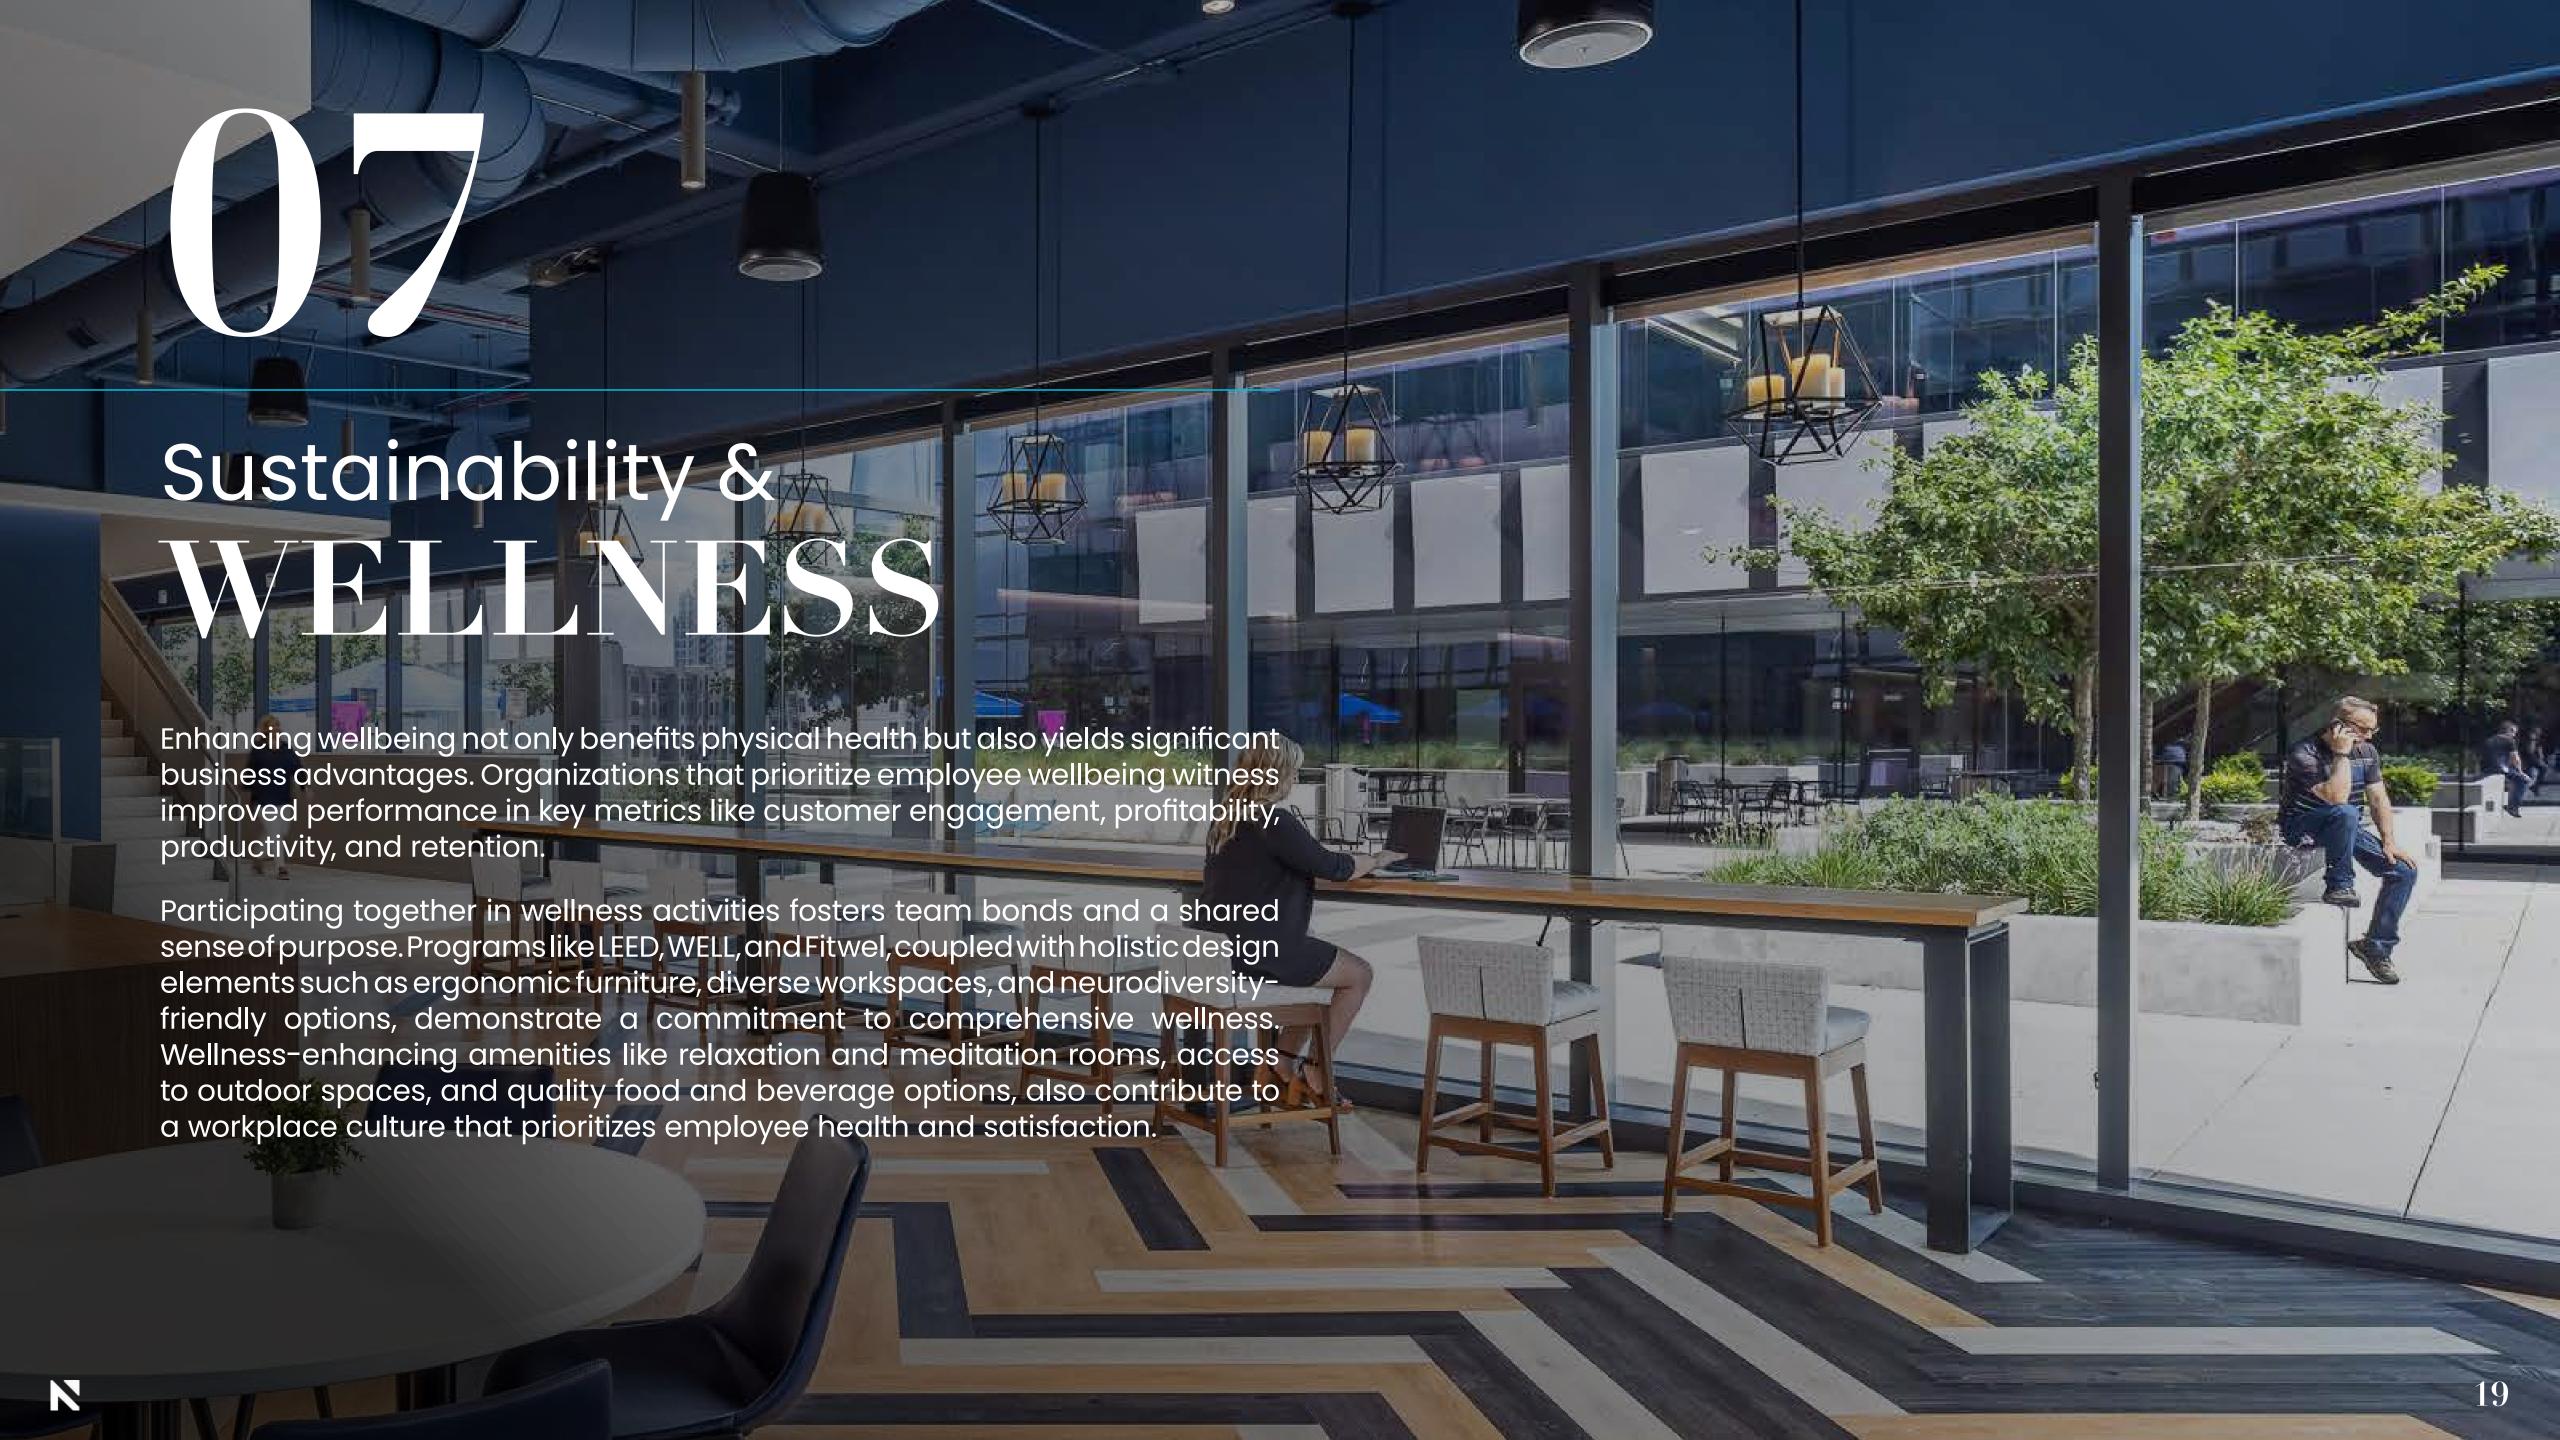

Supporting Different Perspectives

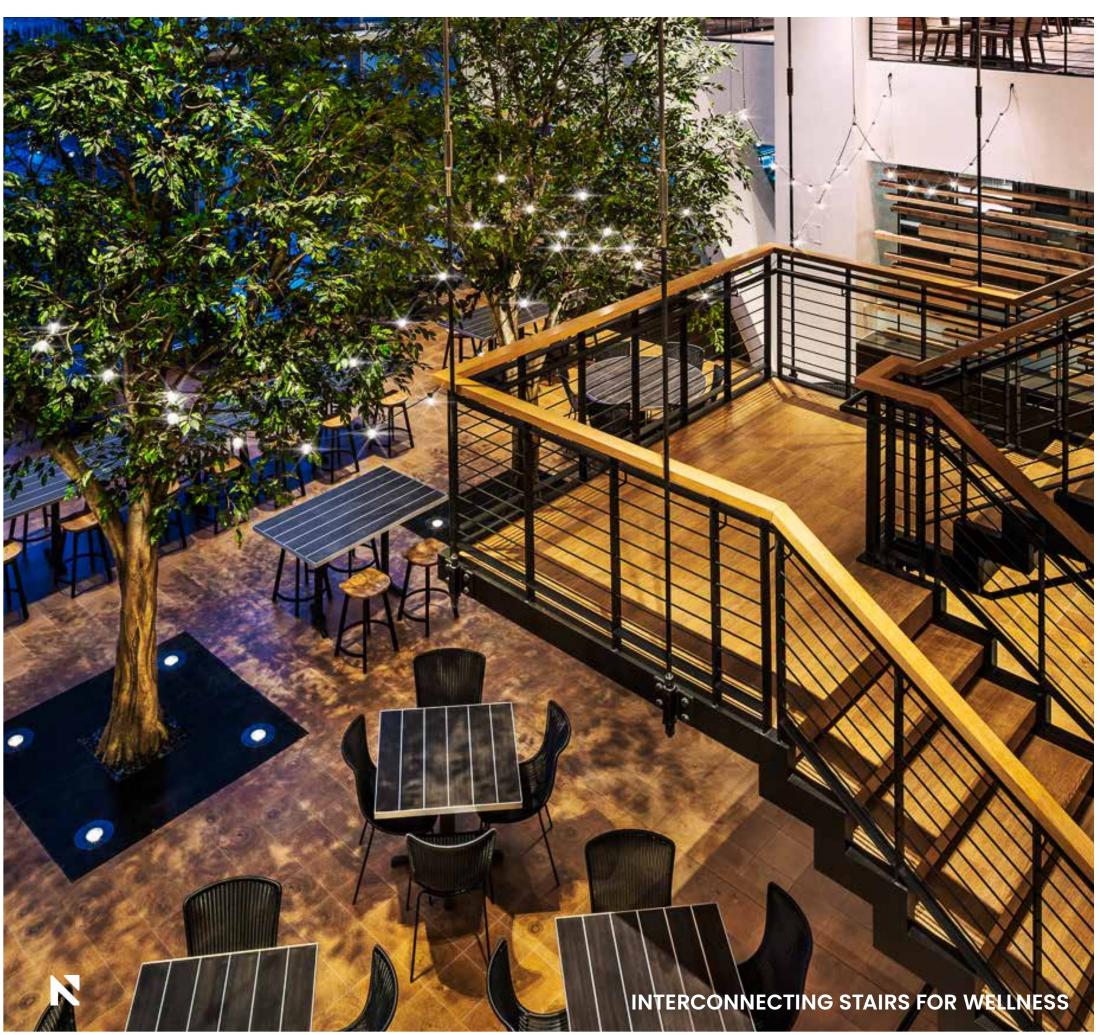

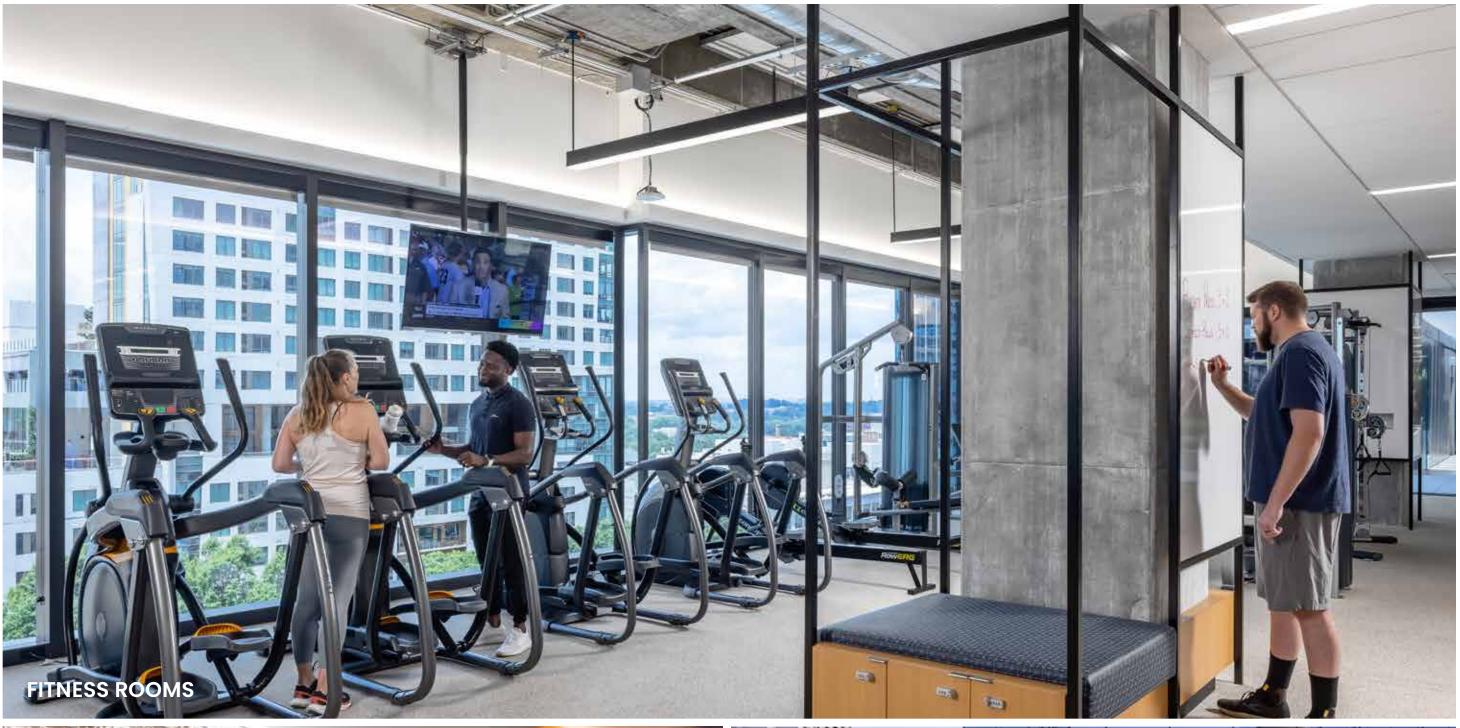

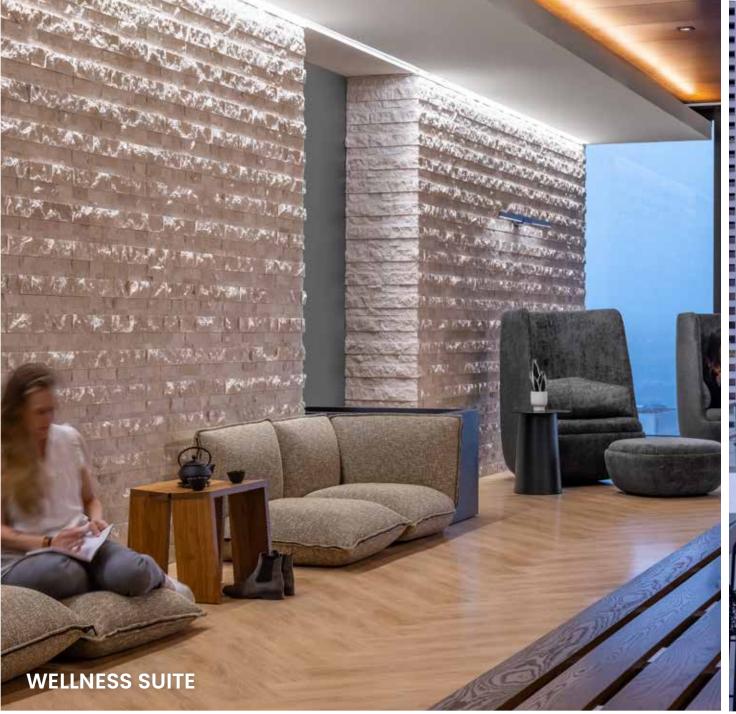

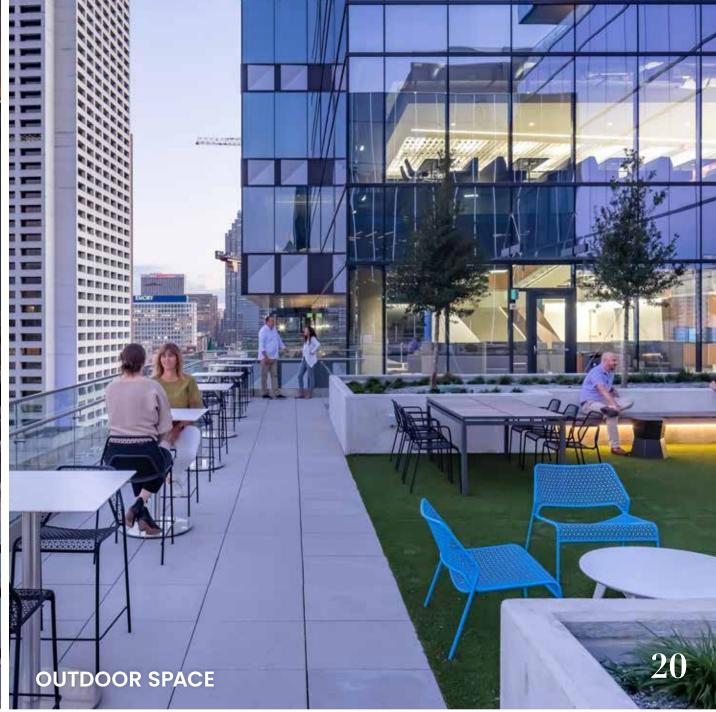

SUSTAINABILITY &WELLNESS Commitment to the Planet and People

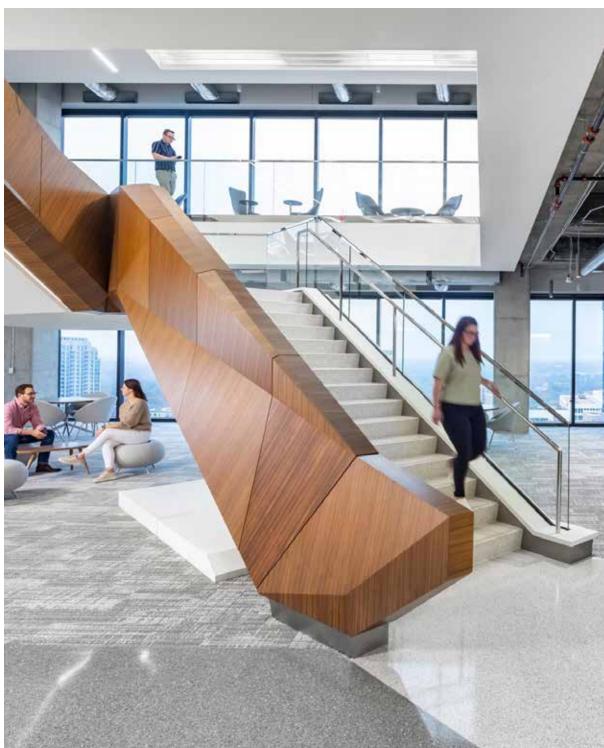

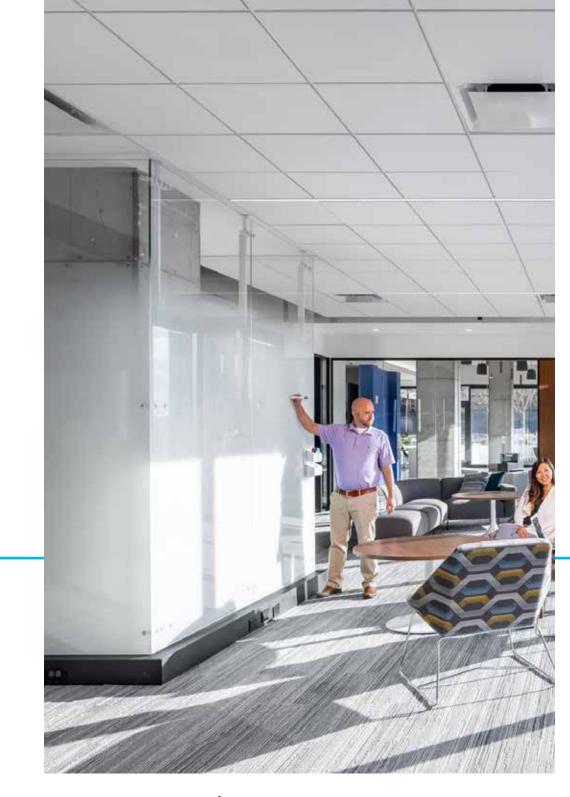

Your Firm, YOUR GOALS

These insights are a starting point to help you navigate the ever-evolving and increasingly consequential world of work. While these trends are common across the sector, one thing remains true. Gone are the days of one-size-fits-all solutions, cookie-cutter offices, and rigid design philosophies.

We recognize that your firm's goals are unique to you – but together we can shape a future that embodies your visions and empowers you to excel.

CONFIDENTIAL CLIENT | ATLANTA, GA

 $oldsymbol{\lambda}$

NELSON

We look forward to transforming all dimensions of the human experience, together!

DANIJEL POCANIC

Financial Workplace Design Leader
646 680 8857

DPocanic@nelsonww.com

